Challenge restaurant zoning ban

Action by the Granite City Council in rejecting a plea for rezoning of a lot on Johnson Road for construction of a Tico Bell Restaurant last Oct. 19 has been challenged in the Third Circuit Court at Edwardsville in a mandamus proceeding filed in behalf of the owners of the land.

The suit was filed by Guy Lahr, Laubelle Hayes and Clarence Lahr against all 14 members of the City Council, individually and collectively as the council.

Defendants are William Dallas, Everett Morlen, Frank Greenwald, Sam Whitmer, Clyde Boyd, Roy Pauls, Glen Sprankle, Warren Decatur, Steve Basarich, Curtis Blevins, Gerald Parmley, Earl Baker, Emerald Dawes and Ronald Coleman.

The petition asks the court to issue a writ of mandamus directing the aldermen to amend the zoning classification of 2021 Johnson Road from its present R-2 (residential) zoning to C-1 (commercial) classification, or to overrule the decision of the City Plan Commission which also denied the requested change.

Rezoning of the tract for restaurant construction was a controversial issue that was killed when the council failed by a 5 to 5 split vote to place an ordinance for the rezoning on either first reading or final passage. The ordinance itself never reached a vote.

Passage of the ordinance that would have rezoned the property came before the council after the City Plan Commission recommended the zoning request be denied.

The mandamus petition, filed in Circuit Court by Attorney William Brandt, who represented the landowners before the council last October, alleges that "defendants' refusal to grant the relief requested was the result of bias and prejudice against petitioner; that there existed no rational basis for defendants' refusal to act as requested; that there exists no comprehensive zoning scheme which would bar the relief."

It contends further that the "defendants based their refusal to act upon the basis of evidence which was neither relevant nor material; that the property sought to be rezoned faces Johnson Road, a major traffic route for automobiles and other

Phone franchise near

By HARRY BARNES

Press-Record Staff Writer
A new franchise agreement in which Illinois Bell Telephone Co. proposes to increase free phone service to Granite City by approximately 300 per cent was presented to the City Council

Tuesday night, but action on the document was delayed pending clarification of issues raised by several aldermen.

While council members discussed the proposed agreement at length, Alderman Curtis Blevins of the Fifth

Ward, chairman of a special franchise committee, told the aldermen that the last negotiation session ended without clarification of a request by the city for a toll-free direct line to Edwardsville and a 100-mile radius in which calls would be toll free.

Aldermen Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward, a member of the committee, and Alderman Gerald Parmley of the Sixth Ward said they would oppose approval of any franchise agreement unless those terms "were put down in black and white."

"We wouldn't stand a chance of getting such service if it were only a verbal agreement and was not put into the franchise," Parmley said.

Whitmer also insisted that the franchise terms be made retroactive to Sept. 4, the date on which the city insists the old franchise expired, instead of

Specio education offices, auditorium in township hall

A groundbreaking ceremony at 10 a.m. Tuesday, March 1, at 21st Street and Delmar Avenue will mark the beginning of construction of the $639,949 Granite City Township office and recreation building.

Parking on that lot will be prohibited after Sunday as the contractor, S. M. Wilson Construction Co., will begin moving heavy equipment onto the property Monday.

The 14,747 square-foot building will have a 60 by 92 foot area housing the supervisor's, general assistance and assessor's offices and Granite City Special Education and a 125 by 75 foot area for senior citizens, including a large auditorium capable of seating up to 600 persons.

About 24 persons will have desks in the new building, including 15 in the assessor's office, seven in the supervisor's office and general assistance, eight in the special education office and four part-time workers for the senior citizens' program.

The Granite City Special Education program is being offered free space in the building for seven years under an agreement between the Granite City Board of Education and the township that 2,000 square feet of space be offered free to the school district for seven years as payment for Central Junior High School.

The school, which formerly occupied that lot, was demolished to allow room for the township building.

The special education area will include a reception area and desk, a clerical area, five rooms for offices or conference rooms, a secretary's office, a testing room, a storage area and restrooms.

The portion reserved for the assessor's office will have a reception area, an information counter, space for nine desks, a file room, a mimeograph room, a lounge, the assessor's private office and restrooms.

In the supervisor's and Non-tax repairs praised

The extent of deterioration of generation-old underground sanitary sewers in the Nameoki area of Granite City has caused widespread concern over the possibility of costly repairs or replacements, and the steps to finance them.

Instead, rehabilitation is taking place without an increase in taxes, and the city and its advisory commission are receiving praise for their approach.

The mayor-appointed Community Resource Commission was asked to evaluate the problem and, through engineering studies by the Sverdrup firm, recommended emphasis on television inspection of sewers and grouting repairs wherever feasible.

Aldermen approved the plan and have since expanded it. Sewer breaks detected in sanitary lines through TV monitoring are repaired internally through equipment controlled at the surface of the ground.

Personnel have been employed, trained and assigned to the task, and added equipment has been obtained.

A newly-received letter, addressed to Mayor Paul Schuler, praises the city government for its efforts to resolve the problems posed by dozens of sewer pipe breaks.

Donald H. Feder, regional sales manager, The Carborundum Company, Orlando, Fla., commented, "I would like to commend the City of Granite City and especially your Public Works Department, headed by Mr. Monroe Brewer and his staff, and Mr. Lionel Portell and Mr. James Stacks, on the progressive and efficient action taken to correct your city's sewer problems."

"In the past 14 months, you have purchased two Cues sewer television and grouting units and have attacked the massive sanitary sewer infiltration and structural problems as few other cities in the ten Midwestern states under my representation have done."

"In fact, I have taken the liberty of presenting 'Granite City' to many larger and newer cities throughout the Midwest as a model of progressive, efficient management and execution of inspecting, repairing, rejuvenating and maintenance of a sanitary sewer system."

"In only 14 months, approximately 50,000 feet of sewer lines have been televised and or

In a letter dated Monday, Dan Partney reported to Mayor Schuler that he had rented the Anchorage Community center for Feb. 28, Sacred Heart Church auditorium March 4, Lincoln Place Center March 14 and Nameoki recreation center March 21.

The mayor replied in a letter yesterday, addressed to Partney as treasurer of P.T., Inc., Thomas Ambulance Service:

Urs of winter flowers and burning tapers in branched candelabra provided the setting for the double ring ceremony performed at 7 p.m. by the Rev. William Foster.

Nuptial selections were furnished by organist Gail Kendall and vocalist Unius Eudy prior to the ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride, chose a full length white antique bridal satin gown designed with a high neckline Empire waist and long tapered sleeves accented with Chantilly lace motifs.

A gathered lace ruffle bordered the A-line skirt and attached train.

She wore a lace headpiece etched with pearls to secure a short lace edged veil and she carried a nosegay of pink carnations, white pom poms intermingled with sprigs of baby's breath.

Maid of honor Miss Karen Nevels, a sister of the bride and bridesmaids, Miss Sheila Eudy, the groom's sister and Miss Robin Mucho, a cousin of the bride, wore identical formal gowns complemented with short wine color velvet jackets.

They carried nosegays of red and pink carnations with baby's breath, encircled with lace.

The flower girls, Kandy Jerrill and Amy Mucho, were dressed alike in long wine velvet dresses and each carried a basket of rose petals.

David Mucho, the bride's cousin, served as ringbearer. Terry Martin attended the groom as best man. Melvin Eudy, a brother of the groom, and Mike Hicks were groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Charles and Greg Mucho and Brad Miller, cousins of the bride.

Following the service a reception was held in the church fellowship hall. Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Nevels entertained members of the wedding party and families at a dinner in their home.

The newly married couple are now residing in Rapid City, S.D.

Three youths held in two robberies

Granite City police detectives say three arrests have been made after an armed robbery Monday afternoon at Ebrecht's Market, 2505 Washington Ave., and the robbery of Mrs. Edith Brown, Overland, Mo., Sunday night where a knife was held to her throat and her purse was stolen on the parking lot of St. Joseph's Church, 201 State St.

Three youths have been arrested including Robert W. Keeney, 20, of 2220 Grand Ave., who has been charged with participating in both robberies.

Keeney is charged with robbery for allegedly driving the car used to escape the scene of the Ebrecht's robbery, and with armed robbery for allegedly aiding and possibly supplying the knife to a 16-year-old boy who robbed Mrs. Brown. The 16-year-old is being held in the Madison County Juvenile Detention Home charged with the robbery of Mrs. Brown.

Also in custody is Morris M. Kohn, 17, of 2127 Grand Ave., who is charged with robbing Ebrecht's Market.

Dorthea Ebrecht, owner of the market, said a man entered with his hands in his pockets and mumbled, "Give me the money." He took a black handgun from his right jacket pocket and pointed it at her, she said.

She sounded a silent robbery alarm, but an error was said to have been committed by the alarm company which sent police to the wrong address.

The victim said she then opened the cash register and gave the man about $70 in bills and the man fled out the door.

A witness said the robber got into a small red car where a driver was waiting behind Hook's Tavern and they drove from the scene.

Keeney's bond has been set at $45,000 and Kohn's bond was established at $15,000 by Associate Judge A. A. Matosian. Both were taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Dr. Jack D. Travelstead, pastor of the Wesleyan United Methodist Church in Macomb, and formerly of the Quad-Cities, was named "trustee of the year" at McKendree College's appreciation dinner in Belleville during the weekend.

A native of Harrisburg, Dr. Travelstead has been closely involved with the board of trustees since 1966 and was directly responsible for McKendree's receiving a $140,000 grant from the Felsheimer Trust of the Wesleyan parish in 1975. The grant was used to renovate a campus dormitory facility, Clark Hall, into an administrative and classroom building. A total of $110,000 of the amount was matched by the college.

Dr. Travelstead has served as chairman of the board nominations committee and worked on the finance campaign for Voigt Science Hall. He also served on the Higher Education Commission for McKendree.

Since his ordination, Dr. Travelstead has been assigned to parishes in Venice (1953), East St. Louis (1955) and East Alton (1960) and was superintendent of the United Methodist Church East St. Louis District. He has been at Macomb since 1971.

The appreciation dinner was the eighth annual event and commemorated the founding of McKendree College on Feb. 20, 1828. Next year, the institution will be celebrating its sesquicentennial, marking 150 years in which the college has been in existence.

The Rev. Leroy C. Hodapp, bishop of the Central and Southern Illinois Areas of the United Methodist Church, was the keynote speaker at the dinner, which drew an audience of over 500 from surrounding communities.

Mayors seek more state help to train police

Upgrading police training and insurance problems of cities were among items discussed Wednesday evening at the Southwestern Illinois Conference of Mayors held its monthly meeting in the Madison-Fremmen's Hall.

The council approved a resolution calling on the State of Illinois legislators to support a surtax on traffic violators and convicted criminals, with the money used to help pay for police training.

The resolution, introduced by Joseph Susnik, mayor of Jerseyville, was unanimously approved by the other mayors.

"I believe if we can get this through the state legislature our cities can be reimbursed a full 100 per cent of the cost of training our police officers, instead of the 50 per cent we are presently receiving," Mayor Susnik said.

Insurance rates and problems caused by cancellation of policies held by cities were discussed by the mayors for some time.

One mayor said, "I want to tell you how bad it is. We have been insured by Lloyd's of London and they notified us that they are cancelling out all municipal policies in the United States. The reason given, according to Lloyd's is that everyone in the United States wants to sue city hall."

Steven Sargent, executive director of the Illinois Municipal League with offices in Springfield, lobbyist for the Conference of Mayors was asked, "Instead of going through insurance agencies or the state, can we find a way to form our own special insurance group?"

Sargent replied that "I can't give you a concrete answer because I am not totally familiar with all the insurance laws in the state. However, we will have our staff look into this matter right away and see if it is possible and practical."

A village trustee of Hartford said "We have been concerned and it is causing us a problem. We have not had many claims.

We're going to have to self-insure."

"With a name like Hartford I can't believe you were cancelled," Sargent said in jest.

Sargent went on to say, "Seriously, this insurance is a major problem with many of our cities and many are being forced to self-insure. Cost of insurance is over taxing city budgets. We just have not been able to solve the problem yet."

There also was discussion on what the two percent fire tax monies may be used for, manpower programs, federal grants, and the problems of finding enough monies to meet city budgets and still provide services to the people without taxes being raised to a such a point that the citizens are hurt.

About 150 mayors and officials attended the dinner prepared by the Madison Ladies City Organization auxiliary.

Ethnic dishes were prepared, such as sarma, parggie and hot tamales and the ladies received numerous compliments from those attending.

The meeting was co-hosted by Venice Mayor William Ebersold and Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk who also is the current president of the Southwestern Illinois Conference of Mayors.

Pennant signs in no passing zones

The Illinois Department of Transportation is starting to install new-type "no passing zone" signs along the state's two-lane highways.

Transportation Secretary Langhorne Bond says, "The department has adopted the use of a reflective, pennant-shaped sign considered to be more effective in communicating the 'no passing' message to motorists."

Installation of the signs has begun in several sections of Southern Illinois and will continue statewide throughout mid-August. Approximately 20,000 signs will be installed.

The new pennant signs will be mounted on the left side of the roadway for better visibility. They are a reflective yellow to provide added "punch" to visibility at night when accidents per vehicle mile are approximately three to four times more frequent than during daylight hours.

The pennant replaces the old rectangular, black and white "do not pass" and "pass with care" signs that were mounted on the right side of the roadway. The new signs also are nearly twice the size of the old signs. Indiana, Iowa and Wisconsin are currently using the pennant "no passing zone" signs on their roadways.

Boy, 7, receives letter from Ford

Joseph Edwards, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Edwards, 18 Jeanette Drive and a second-grade pupil at St. Margaret Mary School, has received a letter from former President Gerald Ford in response to a letter written by the boy.

The letter thanked the boy for "your thoughtful letter," and said, "I will always remember the generous encouragement and good will which were extended to me and my entire family by our fellow Americans."

The former President told the youngster, "This is an exciting world we live in and you are lucky to be young at this particular time in America. You have the chance to see, to do and to be almost anything you want."

"I hope you always believe in yourself, and believe in our country. Remember, whatever your dream, America is a land where dreams come true for young people who are prepared to accept the challenge."

JOSEPH "JOEY" EDWARDS, 7, who has received a letter from former President Gerald Ford, thanking the boy for a letter he had written. The former President advised the youngster to always "believe in yourself and in our country."

Jaycees plan 'Kite Derby' for scouts

The Granite City Jaycees are planning a "Kite Derby" in March for Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts in the Quad-City area.

Bob Burgess, project chairman, said the contest is scheduled for Saturday, March 19. Competition is open to all scouts between the ages of 8 and 17 years.

Location of the event will be announced next week, Burgess said. Permission is being sought to stage the kite flying contest at the Granite City Army installation, he noted.

The boys will compete in three age groups for trophies and ribbons. Cub Scouts - 8 to 11 years and Boy Scouts - 11 to 14 years and 14 to 17 years.

Categories of competition are: Altitude, speed, beauty, smallest flyable kite; and largest flyable kite.

All kites must be homemade and be able to fly in order to compete, Burgess said.

Registration will take place between 9 a.m. and 9:45 a.m. March 19.

Cub Scouts must be accompanied by a responsible adult and Boy Scouts are required to have a minimum of one adult leader of the troop present, Burgess reported.

Jerry Gann is serving as co-chairman of the project. Everybody is welcome to attend the kite derby as spectators, Burgess said.

Further information may be obtained by calling the chairman at 451-9100 (day) and 876-1546 (evening).

Life saving technique explained to Kiwanis

The value of learning cardiopulmonary resuscitation, more commonly known as CPR, a life saving technique, was explained to the Breakfast Kiwanis Club last week at Charlie's Restaurant.

Steve Missey, emergency medical service coordinator for the Illinois Department of Public Health, was the guest speaker.

Missey also is chairman of the CPR coordinating committee of the Illinois Heart Association.

CPR involves mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and external heart compression, administered within four minutes of a heart attack, it could save the victim's life, according to Missey.

The speaker said the best part of the CPR technique is that the average person can learn to perform CPR within about four hours.

Missey told the Kiwanis members that he will set up a class for any group to teach the technique as long as there are five or more members present.

He invited them to call him at 876-2020, extension 411, to arrange instruction.

Missey said that during the past year he has taught 400 people in the technique and during the past two years about 2,500 persons in the Quad-Cities have received instruction from various instructors.

It was noted that the club secretary, Jack Mulach, received the Secretary's Award for the 1975-76 year and this was the second year in a row the club secretary had been honored by Kiwanis International for his record keeping.

Kiwanian Jack Grieves was the program chairman. The breakfast Kiwanis Club held a general business meeting this morning.

GC ambulance grant approved by state

The Emergency Medical Services and Highway Safety Division of the Illinois Department of Public Health has approved the request by Granite City for a $66,000 grant to establish emergency ambulance services here, it was learned today.

State Rep. Jim McPike of the 56th Legislative District, told the Press-Record this morning that he was informed of the grant approval yesterday and that he also has been assured that the grant request will clear the Illinois Department of Transportation as soon as the medical services division certifies its approval to the DOT.

Approval of the grant request will clear the way for the purchase by the city of four ambulances with which to establish emergency ambulance services and replace ambulances that will be taken out of service March 15 by the Thomas Ambulance Service.

The city has advertised for bids to provide four ambulances with required equipment. The bids are to be received at the office of City Clerk Robert Stevens until 5 p.m. Monday, Feb. 28, and will be submitted to the City Council in its regular meeting Tuesday.

McPike said that after he learned of the grant approval by the medical services division, he discussed the matter with Langhorne Bond, director of the Illinois DOT. Bond told him, McPike said, that the DOT will approve the grant.

The grant will be in federal funds that are administered by the state DOT. The grant provides 70 per cent of the estimated cost of the ambulances which was set by the city at $66,000. The units will be fully equipped to meet all state requirements.

Classes are now being held at St. Elizabeth Hospital to train attendants for the city ambulances. The trainees will be certified as emergency medical technicians when the course is completed.

Seventeen employees have been provided by the Madison County Manpower program to provide ambulance crews for three shifts per day for three ambulances. A fourth ambulance will be held in reserve for a major disaster, or as a replacement for any of the other ambulances.

The ambulance service will be operated by the Fire Department. One will operate out of the Nameoki Fire Station and two will operate out of the 1 station in the downtown area.

City Council members decided in regular meeting Tuesday night that the city will proceed on its present plans to initiate the ambulance service before considering any steps toward expanding the service. As a result the council "placed on file" a request by the A. O. Smith Co. that one of the city ambulances be stationed at the West Granite City fire station as a matter of expediency in serving the West Granite City area, including the A. O. Smith Plant.

Council members agreed that because of the short period of time remaining in which to set up the ambulance service, no steps toward revision of present plans be taken at this time. Several aldermen suggested that location of an ambulance in West Granite City is a reasonable request and could be studied later, after the new service is initiated and is in operation.

Revenue sharing workshop

The Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs (DLGA) will conduct a second series of evening workshops around the state on the newly-amended Federal Revenue Sharing Program. DLGA Acting Director John W. Castle reports, included will be the Belleville Area College's Main Building, Room 1200, at 2500 Carlyle Road, at 7 p.m. Tuesday, March 15.

The new series of six workshops has been arranged in response to a high degree of interest among local officials throughout the state.

"The Federal Revenue Sharing Program has been amended and extended for another 3 and 1/4 years," Castle said. "As a result, significant legislative changes impart importance to local governments are now in effect."

Revenue sharing money goes to virtually every municipality, county, and township in the state.

Information on the following areas will be presented at the workshops: funding levels, allocation formula, restrictions on spending, citizen participation, publication requirements, reporting requirements, non-discrimination, auditing and accounting, and wage requirements under the Davis-Bacon Act.

Also, information will be presented on the new Antirecession (Countercyclical) Program under which local governments are currently receiving payments from the U.S. treasury.

'76 campaign units warned

An order is being issued by the State Board of Elections to political committees throughout the state which apparently have failed to comply with the Illinois Campaign Financing Law. The list includes Dan Walker for Governor Committee of Metro-East at 717 Grove, Alton.

Franklin J. Lundling Jr., chairman, directed the board's general counsel to require 34 committees to appear at individual hearings to explain why they have not filed 60-day post election finance reports. Public hearings are to follow, and any political committees found not in compliance with the law will be subject to court action.

If the committees do not respond," Lundling said, "we will ask for immediate court orders requiring compliance." He said filings under the Campaign Financing Act were due Jan. 31, and since that time the State Board of Elections has sent letters by certified mail notifying delinquents of the necessity to file.

Lundling said penalties for noncompliance include specific court orders which carry the power to find the committees in contempt of court, and criminal penalties of up to six months in jail.

University renews insurance coverage

There will be no interruption in general liability and malpractice insurance coverage at Southern Illinois University, but the SIU System is continuing to explore alternatives for insurance coverage.

according to James F. Metcalf, acting vice-president for business affairs at SIU at Edwardsville.

coverages which were scheduled to expire. The contract was awarded to Corroon-Black, Inc., of Chicago, agent for the National Ben Franklin Insurance Co. of Illinois, the only bidder for the university insurance program.

Coverage purchased by the SIU System includes: general liability, $500,000 per occurrence; and malpractice, $250,000 per occurrence, $500,000 maximum coverage for each individual per policy year, and $5 million maximum total coverage for the policy year.

Metcalf said the system is going forward as rapidly as possible with plans to search for additional excess insurance limits to supplement the policy limits.

He said most of the university's insurance program is handled on a system basis, covering all campuses, including Edwardsville, Carbondale, the School of Dental Medicine at Alton and the School of Medicine at Springfield.

Before awarding the contract, university and system officers considered a number of alternatives because the renewal premium is higher and the coverage lower than last year.

Metcalf said alternatives considered included a self-insurance program, soliciting new bids, and securing insurance — particularly malpractice coverage — through professional association and/or specialty companies.

Such alternatives would have represented an interruption in coverage until alternative plans could have been implemented," Metcalf said. "Instructional programs and services requiring institutional insurance coverage would have been curtailed."

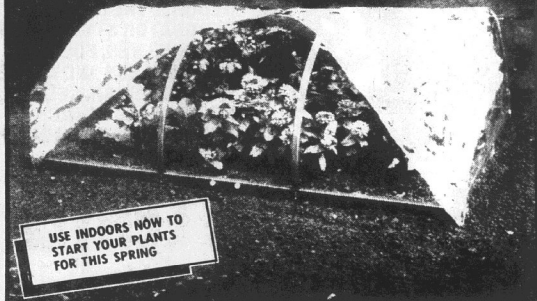

"Both Edwardsville and Carbondale felt that such interruption of programs for an undetermined length of time would be untenable."

"Therefore, although the coverage is not as desired by either university, the decision has been made to accept the bid contract and avoid program interruption."

GC Service Club earns recognition

The project to provide eye examinations and eye glasses for area children, sponsored by Granite City Junior Service Club, received special recognition in two separate communications, which were read during a club meeting Monday night.

Mrs. Beverly King, president, presided at the monthly session held at the Namoki United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Pam Reed, corresponding secretary, read a letter from Mrs. Jeannette Loyet, school nurse at Sacred Heart Catholic School, thanking the members for their assistance in furnishing funds for the eye examinations and eye glasses for pupils.

Vasil Eftimoff, administrative assistant-pupil personnel of the Granite City School District, sent a letter which read, "The school personnel and nurses of Granite City Community wish to express their gratitude to you and your organization for your co-operation and generosity in providing sight saving devices for our children. The recipients are very fortunate to have people considerate to the needs of other people. They express their appreciation to us and we forward this gratitude to you."

Other reports were submitted by Mrs. Donna Sprankle, secretary and Mrs. Gale McFarland treasurer.

Plans were finalized to provide games, prizes and refreshments to the residents at the Colonnades Nursing Home on March 28.

Mary Lou Richardson discussed the club's installation set for April 18 at the Cheshire Inn in St. Louis.

The president reported the spring service project will be providing assistance by phone to the Camelot auction in May on Channel 8.

Probationary members accepted were Mesdames Betty Nighoghossian, Rose Ann Bates and Donna Polivick.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by hostesses Mrs. Sprankle and Mrs. McFarland to those mentioned and to Wilma Eddington, Faith Holsinger, Janet LeGrand, Flora Mae Leming, Sue Riess, Jannie Staats, Janet Warren, Brenda Weckman, Mary Lou Worthen and probationary members Jo Ella Harris and Gail Mofsky.

Women's Caucus seeks potential appointees

A talent bank of women qualified to accept various appointments in state government currently is being compiled by the Illinois Women's Political Caucus, a non-partisan group concerned with legislative matters affecting women.

Mrs. Anita Eftimoff of Granite City was among those attending an executive meeting of women's state organization last week to discuss the talent bank project.

The meeting was held in the home of Illinois State Representative Susan Catania of Evanston (R-22nd District). Establishment of a talent bank of qualified women to fill potential upper echelon posts in state government was decided at the business session.

Area women interested in submitting their qualifications for possible state appointment are invited to contact Mrs. Eftimoff, at 877-7134 after 4 p.m., for an application.

Mrs. Eftimoff serves as vice president of the Metro-East district of the Illinois Women's Political Caucus.

The main thrust of the National Women's Political Caucus at the present time seeks to change the status of the Internal Revenue Service ruling, governing single heads of households, Mrs. Eftimoff advised.

School nurse presents program

Mrs. Dolores Stalecker, school nurse, presented a program on "Emergency Action" at the Parkway School PTA meeting, and gave instructions on how to cope with several types of emergencies.

Included in her instructions was proper care for choking, bleeding, convulsions, fainting, burns, sprains and fractures.

Guests and members were welcomed by Mrs. Pat Bieniecki, president, at the session conducted last week at the school.

Mrs. Linda Ziolkowski, membership chairman, presented Mrs. Agnes Frynsko, principal, with an award for 100 per cent of the teachers joining the organization and another award noting a 10 per cent increase in enrollment over last year's total.

The president announced a kiln for ceramics was purchased by the PTA and has been placed in the school.

Plans for the Spring Carnival and spaghetti dinner scheduled for April 15 at the school, were also discussed.

Mrs. Elizabeth Briggs' morning kindergarten class won the evening attendance prize. Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by Mrs. Dee Robinson, hospitality chairman, after the meeting.

Lenten theme—service, hope, effort for constructive change

President Kenneth A. Shaw of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville offered suggestions yesterday on fulfilling the purpose of the Lenten season. In most Christian churches, Lent is observed as a period of penitence and fasting in the 40 days between Ash Wednesday and Easter.

Speaking at the 6:30 a.m. Ash Wednesday service of the First Presbyterian Church of Alton, President Shaw said, "If we can use this season of Lent to find ways in which we can end our oppression of ourselves — and discover new forces for peace and truth in all the communities in which we live — I think we will have fulfilled the fundamental purpose of the season."

He added, "If we seek to find ourselves and lose ourselves in the service of mankind, we will find untold benefits."

Citing sacrifices necessary for self-improvement, the president said, "we must show a willingness to try new things, precisely those things that make us anxious and uneasy. Only by venturing forth into newer forms of activity can we find a measure by which we can judge ourselves."

"In our constant strife for self-improvement, we will put aside past things."

"We may discard things that once seemed precious to us. But we may find something better."

We may find out where we fit in the immense and growing scheme of things — that we are growing with society and the world."

Acknowledging that some people are committed to the belief that the human condition is hopeless, Shaw said there are people who destroy themselves through "self-oppression."

He suggested that self-destruction can be avoided by service to others. Continuing, he said, "By doing this, we will find that things are not so hopeless after all."

People should realize that their lives are constantly in a state of transition, the SUE president said, "and that hope for the future depends on our constantly striving to effect change for the better."

Again citing the purpose of the religious observance, Dr. Shaw said, "Even though the Lenten season is traditionally one that emphasizes serious reflection, I suggest to you that to engage in this look into ourselves — making a judgment as to the character of our personal, moral lives — is an act that begins with a facing up. Looking up is a gesture of hope, the spirit of the spirit."

Formerly vice-president and dean of the university of Towson State University, Baltimore, Md., he became president here on Jan. 17.

Most dental problems of the handicapped are preventable

This is the last in a series of six articles on dental health, published by the Press-Record in cooperation with the six-county Madison District Dental Society, in observance of National Children's Dental Health Week:

"My next-door neighbor has a handicapped child and was asking me about taking her to a dentist. Are there any special problems regarding dental care for the handicapped?"

Dr. Henry Elsbach, president, Madison District Dental Society and a specialist in dentistry for children, replies—
There is no group for whom optimum dental health is more important than the handicapped. Yet, oral health is too often neglected because of the pressures of more immediate health problems.

A healthy mouth is vital—to chew and swallow, and thus maintain adequate nutrition. Also, to speak clearly, and to enhance personal appearance, with all its social and emotional implications.
Handicapped individuals generally have poorer dental health than others.

In addition, different handicaps tend to be associated with different dental problems. Some of the conditions which have related oral problems include cerebral palsy, cleft lip or palate, cystic fibrosis, diabetes mellitus, down's syndrome, epilepsy, hemophilia and various orthopedic problems.
Dental disease is preventable, and this especially is important for the handicapped.
It is not only harder for them to get to the dental office for treatment, but restoring the mouth is often more complicated.

As with the general population, much of the long-term damage to the mouths of handicapped persons is due to periodontal (gum) disease and tooth decay.
In dental health, prevention should include careful daily flossing and brushing of the teeth, the use of fluorides in water, professional fluoride treatments, proper nutrition and regular supervision by a dentist.

Some dentists have made a special effort to treat the handicapped. Your neighbor should check with the dentist prior to the first appointment to make sure that he accepts handicapped patients.
If he does not, most dentists can recommend a colleague who does treat handicapped persons and who will give the child the attention she needs.

Come see Granny for a home improvement loan

The Chouteau Town Board of Auditors was told, during its meeting Monday night that improved weather conditions have allowed construction work to resume on the new township hall building and the brickwork should be completed within a few weeks.

Bricklaying resumed Friday after the recent cold and wet weather and a full crew has been utilized to try and complete the framework while the warm weather lasts, the auditors were told.

The contractor, Wilson Construction, Godfrey, hopes to complete the shell and put a roof on the structure immediately, so interior work can continue, even if the weather turns cold, one official noted. Although no target date for completion has been announced, a moving date in early May is hoped for.

The board voted to purchase a duplicator from A. B. Dick Corp. for about $950. Bids were not necessary since the state sought bids on duplicators and selected the Dick machine as the best bid and the township is purchasing it at the state's bid price, Mrs. Patricia Polley, town clerk, explained.

She said funds for the duplicator were in the current budget as an item which will be needed in the town hall.

Humane group has dog, two cats for adoption

Two cats and a dog remain to be adopted from the Association for the Protection of Animals (APA) which must vacate its shelter facility early in March at the Granite City Army Installation, Mrs. Carol Willoughby, co-president, said today.

The APA has not accepted unwanted pets to place in other homes since being notified late last year that the shelter area was no longer available to the group.

Mrs. Willoughby said the part-sheepdog is female, mostly black, about 11 months old and large. The dog will make a wonderful pet for older children, but she needs a fenced yard, the officer commented.

Both cats available for adoption are female. One is a gray tabby, 18 months old, very gentle and loving. The other is white with calico markings, 2 years old. She is more timid, but lovable, Mrs. Willoughby said. The cats must be kept indoors until warmer weather, as neither has had a chance to grow thick winter coats, the APA officer advised.

Families or individuals interested in adopting the animals are invited to call 931-5654, 876-6388 or 877-1580 for further information.

Plans are being made by the volunteer humane association to construct a new shelter to house unwanted pets.

A public appeal for donations of any amount to help finance the project still is being made. Contributions may be sent to: APA, Box 1311, Granite City, Ill. 62040.

Workshop on career goals for the mature

A career life planning workshop will be held Monday, Feb. 28, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for mature people who are planning to attend college and need help in establishing new or re-establishing old career goals.

Louise Saunders, SIUE academic advisor and founder of the workshop, said it will "help set the stage in beginning to examine how people can focus on the future."

David Van Horn, director of placement at SIUE, will give skill identification tests to identify skills the prospective students may have from past careers.

Mrs. Saunders said, "People have skills from the past they can bring to the present."

She said that, through the workshop, people may seek more education or an update on education of their particular skills.

Mrs. Saunders, whose main interest is in education for people in mid-life, pre-retirement years, held three workshops in 1976 for people from 20 to 60 years of age. She asks that those who wish to attend the workshop call her at 692-2342, or write to her at SIUE, Box 44.

A tire and rim worth $220, and about $225 worth of tools in a gray tool box were stolen from the trunk of the car of James Holder, 2742 Waterman Ave., either while parked at his home or at work in St. Louis, he reported Monday. A hole was punched in the trunk lid just below the lock.

Zoning workshop in area Saturday

The Student Planning Association (SPA) of SIUE and the Association of Planning Commissioners (APC) will present a planning and zoning workshop Saturday at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn. The SPA and APC have outlined the purpose of the workshop as providing a forum "for exchange of ideas and discussion of common problems related to planning and zoning."

The workshop is designed for community planning and zoning commissioners as well as community officials. It will begin at 9:15 a.m. with addresses of welcome by SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw, SPA President Dean Johnson and APC President Joseph Doughney.

Following a buffet luncheon, Illinois State Rep. Everett G. Steele will introduce keynote speaker David Morris, supervisor in the Office of Research and Planning of the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs, who will speak on "Community Planning and Development Opportunities in Southern Illinois."

Other topics, including those relating to planning commissions, the planning process and zoning, will be discussed by SIUE graduate planning students.

The workshop will include a guided tour of the SIUE campus and an open forum conducted by members of the APC. Attendance is limited to 100 people.

The SPA is an organization of graduate planning students in the department of earth science and planning. They were instrumental in creating the APC, an organization of planning commissioners from different municipalities in Madison County.

The APC members are usually citizens appointed by their respective city councils to serve on an advisory board on planning and zoning related issues.

One purpose of the SPA is to give planning students a chance to "speak out in the planning network," according to Donald Strumeyer, SPA advisor and associate professor in the department of earth science and planning. Members may do this by attending planning related conferences, he said.

Several SPA members attended a joint conference of the American Institute of Planners.

April sale of city stickers

Robert W. Stevens, city clerk of Granite City, announced yesterday that new city vehicle licenses (city stickers) now are being printed and will go on sale in mid-April.

Stevens said his office has received numerous inquiries when the stickers will be sold because of publicity this month on current deadlines for stickers in St. Louis, Madison and other cities.

THEFT FROM AUTO

A $150 citizens' band radio, about $55 worth of hand tools and a pair of boots were stolen from the auto of Larry Lunsford, 2410 State St., parked at the victim's home it was discovered Monday.

American Society of Planning Officials (ASPO) in Washington, D.C., last spring. This year, they hope to attend the annual ASPO conference in San Diego, Calif., in April.

Regional play for two GC quintets here March 1-2-4

East St. Louis Senior High School is favored to take top honors next week in the GCHS South-hosted Illinois High School Association Class AA (733 and over enrollment) boys' regional basketball tournament in the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium. But both Granite City quintets have shown past ability to ignite and develop unexpected power in tournament play.

The East St. Louis Flyers will take on fourth-seeded GCHS North in the tourney's opening game at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 1.

The Lincoln High Tigers of East St. Louis, seeded second, and third-seeded GCHS South will clash at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 2.

Winners of the two Friday matinee games will meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday, March 4, in the regional title game, with the victor advancing to sectional competition March 8, 9 and 11 at East St. Louis Senior High School along with regional meet victors at Belleville, East, Alton and Collinsville.

The last time a Granite City school advanced into a sectional meet was during the 1974-75 season when Coach William "Bill" Oehlendorf's North High Steelers swept to top honors in the Collinsville regional by beating O'Fallon 71-58 and Edwardsville 77-74, and then nipping Collinsville 49-46 in the title clash.

The Steelers bowed 80-49 in opening-round play of the East St. Louis sectional that season and concluded the year with a 19-10 record.

The Flyers went on to place third in the state finals.

In last year's regional meet, North High beat Roxana 71-47 and then lost 79-68 to Edwardsville in the championship game. GCHS South participated last year at East St. Louis, losing 47-44 to the hosts.

Since the inauguration of the boys' basketball statewide tournament series in 1968, Granite City teams have advanced into the state finals eight times, including the state championship in 1940 with a 24-22 championship game win over Herrin.

The first trip to the state tourney came in 1911 with Granite City Community High School (now GCHS South) placing third, followed in 1912 by another third-place finish. Granite City made it to the state meet also in 1915 and 1916 and again in 1938.

Following the 1940 state title, Granite City has twice made the trip after wins in regional, sectional and super-sectional play—1960 and 1971.

The Steelers have two contests remaining on the 1976-77 regular season schedule before next week's regional action, both this weekend.

North High hopes to improve its 9-13 record with a win in the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium tomorrow at 8 p.m. over Hillsboro, and with a win Saturday night in an 8 p.m. contest at Cahokia.

GCHS South, with Coach Don Detering at the helm, carries an 8-14 record into its final season contest Saturday at 8 p.m. against Edwardsville in the Granite City gymnasium.

The Warriors at one time this season had a 7-2 mark until injuries and illness sidelined starting cagers.

South has made 496 field goals and 270 free throws while opposing teams have meshed 555 and 301 so far this season.

North's Steelers in 22 games have made 502 field goals to opposing teams' 491. North has trailed from the foul line, 284-320.

The team emerging victorious in the East St. Louis sectional meet will compete in super-sectional action March 18 at Carbondale Community High School.

The "elite eight" Class AA state meet in the University of Illinois Assembly Hall atampaign is set for March 18 and 19.

Sacred Heart baseball team to hold reunion

Players and followers of Sacred Heart men's baseball teams from 1938 to the present are being invited to a reunion Friday, March 4, beginning at 6:30 p.m., at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Granite City.

A committee has been formed to try and contact all former Sacred Heart players and invite them to the event. Former fans also are being invited.

Committee members are Larry Burns, John Mink, Bob Haggner and Dan Sheehan. "We are attempting to mail invitations to all former players and fans. But if we miss someone, we want him to know he is invited," a committee spokesman said. Tickets cost $1 per person and will be available at the door. Refreshments will be offered at the event.

After being formed about 1938, Sacred Heart baseball squads played in the Inter-City Baseball League for many years until the Sacred Heart and Mercer Mortuary teams were merged.

"Since Sacred Heart and Mercer are nearly synonymous, we want the Mercer fans and players to know they are welcome to attend this event," the spokesman concluded.

PRIMED FOR BASEBALL SEASON, these SIUE Cougars began practicing even before the January-February snow cover had fully melted.

Quad-Cityans provide Cougar pitching power

Beating major league baseball clubs to the punch, Coach Roy E. Lee opened diamond practice at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville last week for pitchers and catchers.

Because of the lack of a gym on campus, the Cougar baseballers will work out at the Glen Carbon grade school gym in preparation for SIUE's 41-game schedule, which opens March 19 at Atlanta, Ga., with a single game against Mercer University.

The rest of the squad, which could number as high as 50 hopefuls, will begin drills this Saturday, Feb. 26.

Assisting Lee in coaching the Cougars again this year will be Bruce Thomas. It will be Thomas' third season as SIUE assistant coach.

Trying out for the four starting pitching assignments for the Cougars are nine strong mound candidates.

The top four pitchers, at this early stage, are members of the quartet of veterans who pitched the Cougars to a second-place finish in the National Collegiate Athletic Association Division II national championship tournament at Springfield last June. The Cougars have qualified for seven straight NCAA regional tournaments.

The four veterans are: southpaw Stan Osterbur, Ponton Beach, and Steve Ashby. Granite City, and righthander Jerry Deml (6'7" tall) of Waldorf, Minn., and Sam Pastrovich, Mt. Oke.

The five other standout mound prospects are: Lance McCord, Highland, who played at Chipola Junior College in Florida; Kent Hendrickson, a mainstay on last year's Florissant Valley Community College staff, Mike Smith, a former pupil of Ron Middleton of Bethalto High and a transfer from Lewis and Clark Community College; Steve Ward, native of Champagne and an ex- teammate of Osterbur's at Parkland Junior College; and southpaw Vic Spagnola of Staunton, a mainstay on last year's Cougar junior varsity.

Fourteen of SIUE's mound victories were the combined contributions of Osterbur, 5-4; Deml, 6-4; Ashby, 2-3; and Pastrovich, 1-0. Lost from last year's mound staff were Larry (5-4) Moore, Dennis (7-1) Reinhardt, Greg (3-3) Volk and Pat (2-1) Leonard.

At bat and in the field, Coach Lee has only two starters returning from last year's powerful team: leading hitter, Mike (Trenton) Weslin High) Brown, whose .350 average included nine doubles, eight triples and five home runs, and shortstop Dave Schaake of Edwardsville, who finished with a .276 average.

A big loss, affixed at the bat, will be that of Bill Lee, whose late 1976 season surge vaulted him to a lofty .366 average and paced the Cougars to their second-place finish in the national tournament.

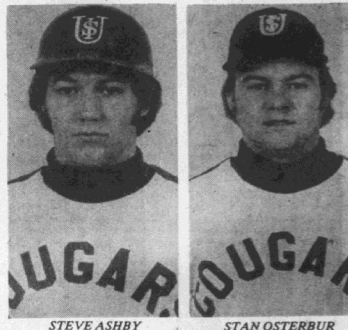

No 1 candidate to replace Lee at first base is Kent Wells of Flora, who tallied off late in the season at bat but still managed to hit a respectable .292.

At second base, little Don Broadway of Wood River will take over for Tim Twellman, who has decided to try for a pro career in soccer. Last season's top runs-batted-in leader, John "Red" Urban, whose 41 RBIs just topped Brown's 40, will be tough to replace at third base.

Broadway hit .313 and misused just once in the field. Urban's No. 1 replacement is probably Steve Novak, an ex-Tried High player who moved to Michigan City, Ind.

Don Lange, formerly of Collinsville High, a fairly regular starter in the final half of the season, had torrid regional and national tournaments and seems assured of an outfield berth, as does Bob Wilber.

Edwardsville High's Bill Stolte has impressed Lee, who said, "Stolte is definitely one of the best prospects ever to attend SIUE. He's got a great arm, and at bat he's a line-drive hitter."

STEVE ASHBY STAN OSTERBUR

Two other outfield prospects who could earn starting berths are Steve Brendell of Highland, who played baseball for Belleville Area College; and Don Eberlin, a sophomore stand-out from Alton.

The catching job, left vacant with the graduation of Decatur's Pat Scholz, is a three-way battle between Randy Manley of Highland, Greg McBride of Edwardsville, and Don Eberlin, a transfer from Lakeland Junior College.

Manley played in 13 games and collected 34 times at bat while hitting a towering .412 and was chosen the designated hitter on the NCAA national tournament all-star team at Springfield.

The Cougars are playing a rough schedule. In addition to a pair with the Salukis of SIU at Carbondale, Lee's side will meet Coastal Carolina University, the U. of Detroit, the U. of Cincinnati, Georgia Southern, Mercer University of Macon, North Central College, Indiana Central and Morehead State.

The heart of the Cougars' schedule, however, is still a gaggle of old and fierce rivals, like St. Louis U., the University of Missouri-St. Louis, Eastern Illinois, Western Illinois U., Indiana State U.-Evansville, Southwest Missouri State, the Purple Aces of Evansville U., Kentucky Wesleyan and Austin Peay University of Tennessee.

And, at the end of the schedule, is the gold at the end of the rainbow—the NCAA regional tournament and a chance to advance to the national tournament at Springfield.

GC hopes high in state wrestling; Schmitt is grand marshal

The scrambles for team honors in the 40th edition of the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) two-class boys' state final wrestling tournament this weekend — at the Assembly Hall on the campus of the University of Illinois in Champaign — appear to be as hard to "handicap" as the Kentucky Derby.

Six schools are as contenders for the Class A team championship and four are given good odds in Class AA, where GCHS North and South also could provide a surprise.

Defending Class A champion Yorkville advanced five champions and one runnerup from the sectionals to boost the biggest contingent for the competition for schools with enrollments of 750 or less.

Coach Dennis Haster's Foxes are followed by Normal (Univ.) with four sectional champions and one second-place finisher. Savanna, New Lenox (Providence), Harvard and Delavan each advanced four wrestlers.

In Class AA competition, for schools with enrollments of 751 or more, Franklin Park (East Leyden) and Cahokia led the way with qualifiers at six each. Cahokia produced five sectional champions and one runnerup here, while East Leyden delivered a trio of each.

Joliet (West) will bring a total of five, including four sectional champions, while West Chicago boasts three sectional winners and a pair of runnerups.

South of Granite City has two champs and two runnerups, while North is sending one sectional champion and three runnerups.

First-round matches in Class AA competition will begin at 1 p.m. Friday on six mats. Class A first-round matches and Class AA second-round and opening wrestling bouts will begin at 6 p.m. Friday.

Semifinals in both classes, along with additional wrestling bouts, will be conducted Saturday beginning at noon.

On Saturday night, the Class AA third and fifth-place and Class A third-place matches at 6 p.m. will precede the championship bouts in both classes.

The annual grand march of finalists is set to begin at 7:10 p.m. Saturday. Named grand marshals for this year's affair are former Proviso Township High School coach and former IHSA rules interpreter Louis Stimmer, now retired, and current IHSA Wrestling Advisory Committee Chairman William "Red" Schmitt of Granite City (South).

Season tickets, priced at $7 each, will be on sale at the Assembly Hall Friday, and individual session tickets priced at $2 each will be on sale before the start of each session.

There will be a total of 51 schools with competitors in Class A competition, out of 145 which entered wrestlers in the tournament series at the district level two weeks ago.

In Class AA, 116 schools will be represented in the Assembly Hall out of a total of 249 which began at the district.

Named to serve as mat officials for the 420 total bouts (120 in Class A and 300 in Class AA) are Frank Coniglio of Murphysboro, Wayne Danello of Antioch, Del Fanning of East Moline, Robert Jones of Decatur, Robert Rogers of Peoria, Dale Sandrock of Pekin, Clifford Sheets of Decatur, John Swalec of Chatham and Gene Swierczewski of Hoffman Estates.

In Class A there are 10 unbeaten wrestlers among the 96 qualifiers. In Class AA, 22 unbeaten advanced among the field of 192 competitors.

Returning champions in Class A include: Jerry Rabb of Stockton (29-1) up to 106 from 98, Scott Corwin of Yorkville (33-0) up to 112 from 105, Dave Torres of Yorkville (25-0) up to 119 from 112, defending champion Mark Mitchell of Minooka (34-0) at 145 and Willie Gaddy of Normal (Univ.) 32-3-1 at 167 down from 185.

In Class AA, the returning champions include: Lee Goldsmith of Northfield (New Trier West) (28-3) at 112 up from 105, Tom Janicki of Belleville (West) 26-0 at 126 up from 119, Greg McCullum of Joliet (West) 29-1 at 132 up from 126 and Tim Florini of Darien (Hinsdale South) who won at 138 last year for Rock Falls and is at 145 this year with a 14-1 mark.

Granite City has no state entries this year in four of the 12 weight classes — 119, 138, 155 pounds and heavyweight.

Participating will be: 98 pounds — North's Khrist Whelan (sectional champion); 105 — South's Wally Deshon (sectional champion); 112 — North's Keith Whelan; 126 — North's Matt McCullough; 132 — South's Dave Gaines (sectional champion); 145 — South's James Carmody; 167 — North's Mark Widel; And 185 — South's Kevin Wilson.

First-round state tournament weight class pairings by weight class follow:

98 — Khrist Whelan, Jr. (11th grade), 33-0 won-loss record, vs. Steve Krause, Midlothian (Bremen), Jr., 32-3.

105 — Deshon, Jr., 27-6, vs. David Cook, Chicago (Vocational), Jr., 26-1.

112 — Keith Whelan, Sr., 17-3, vs. Todd Griffith, Rock Island (High Soph.), 26-4.

126 — McCullough, Sr., 30-3-1, vs. Kurt Koehling, DeKalb, Jr., 22-1.

132 — Gaines, Sr., 26-8, vs. Mark Brooks, Oswego, Sr., 23-1.

145 — Carmody, Sr., 33-1, vs. Tony Scott, Rock Island (High), Sr., 30-9.

167 — Widel, Sr., 32-4, vs. John McGuinness, River Grove (Holy Cross), Sr., 37-1.

185 — Wilson, Sr., 30-4, vs. Otto Schulz, Normal (Community), Sr., 28-4-2.

Roxana will be represented by three wrestlers and Belleville East by two. Sending one grappler each from the local sectional into the state tournament are Belleville West, Lincoln, Ill., East St. Louis Senior High, Mascoutah and Alton.

Six wrestlers from this section will be seeing state tournament competition for a second straight season, two with undefeated records and one with only a single loss.

They are: Khrist Whelan of GC North (98 pounds) 33-0 mark; Les Pohl of Cahokia (112), 41-1; Steve Koch of Belleville East (119); Mike Lorentzen of Cahokia (119); Tom Janicki of Belleville West (126) 26-0; and Stan Dickinson of Belleville East (145).

Keith Whelan of GC North (112) is set to make his third appearance at Champaign.

Granite City teams are not strangers to state tournament competition. Coach Schmitt's Warriors placed second in the 1957 meet with 41 points when Maywood (Proviso) took top honors with 52.

In 1965, Schmitt's matmen shared statewide first-place team honors with Oak Lawn (Heavis), each with 31 points, marking the first time the state tournament had ever ended in a deadlock.

Oak Lawn and Chicago Heights Bloom tied for first place a decade later in the 1975 meet, each with 33 points.

Bloom returned in 1976 to claim all of the Class AA honors.

Steeler Keith Whelan made his state tournament debut with a sixth-place finish in 1975 meet, and in 1976 he placed fifth while his brother, Khrist, took fourth in his initial state competition.

MADISON JUMP SHOT LAST NIGHT by Clayton Harris (20). The player second from the left is Randall Jones of MHS. The Trojans defeated Lovejoy of Brooklyn 84-76.

Madison wins, will play Friday for title

The name of the game in annual statewide basketball tournament play is "survival." Trying to repeat as regional champions, the Madison High School Trojans were off their usual form last night but they survived, 84-76, and will play Freeburg or St. Henry for the championship at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Columbia High School.

A victory there would send MHS into the sectional meet at Vandalia next week.

Madison outbounced Lovejoy of Brooklyn last night 41-36 but a number of MHS passes went wild and Trojan efforts to defend against the speedy Lovejoy quieted proved ineffective.

Lovejoy's Wildcats had ousted Venice from the tourney 56-43 Monday night, when MHS drew a bye.

At Columbia Tuesday night, Madison led 19-12, 41-34 and 60-58 at the quarters.

The margin was razor-thin throughout the fourth quarter and Coach Larry Graham's Trojans began stalling tactics with three minutes left. Francis Lovejoy efforts to gain possession enabled MHS to add to its lead with free throws.

Despite its rebounding edge, Madison got just 73 shots to Lovejoy's 74 and missed 30 to the foe's 33 field goals.

Nervous at the free throw line, MHS connected on 24 of 37 to Lovejoy's 10 of 14.

The Wildcats committed 24 fouls to Madison's 12 and 19 turnovers to the Trojans' 11.

Enemy fast breaks and layups prevented MHS from pulling away from Lovejoy. Darrell McKire and Eric Watson were particularly effective on short drives toward the goal and Watson led all scorers with 24 points.

Madison pointmakers were Rodney Davis 21, Anthony King 17, Randall Jones 15, Ron Williams 14, Lloyd Williams eight, Clayton Harris five and James Heard and Keith King, two each.

Coach Graham indicated relief at the semifinal victory and belied that the Trojans will be sharper both offensively and defensively in the regional championship game.

"We were a bit cold in our shooting and also had problems on the defensive boards," he said.

"Although our 25 offensive rebounds were helpful, we got only 18 defensive rebounds," the coach told the Press-Record.

March winds, money rival arrive early "March winds" have been blowing in February.

And "March madness" of the Illinois sports world began this week and will continue through the first half of next month.

"March madness" may be the most contagious ailment in Illinois since the common cold. It strikes everywhere — from Chicago to Cairo, from Galena to Paris to Madison — sometime during the third month of the year.

It is accompanied by tears — of joy and sorrow — and a distinct increase in the heart beat. It is not fatal, and yet everyone who catches it is infected for life.

Since 1908, when Peoria High School beat Rock Island 48-29 at the Oak Park YMCA Gym in the first state basketball tournament, Illinois in the vernacular of the times is "up for grabs" until a new state champion is decided.

The late Lewis Omer, then athletic director at Oak Park High School, originated the idea of the state tournament.

Thirteen teams were invited to the tournament. The next year, following Omer's suggestion, the Infant Illinois High School Athletic Association took over the venture.

It has emerged as one of the most widely publicized and competitive state prep tournament series in the nation.

The 1909 tournament was held in the Bloomington YMCA Gym. Two years later, Bradley University was the site for the state tournament, and Rockford High School belted Mt. Carroll 60-15 for the championship.

Rockford's 60-point effort was the title game record for the next 34 years.

For several years, the tournament was alternated between Bradley and Millikin University in Decatur. In 1918, Springfield High School's gym was the site of the tournament — the only time it has been held in a high school facility — and the famed Arthur L. Trout guided his Centralia Orphans to the first of three titles they would win under his leadership.

At the same time, Sports Editor Fred "Brick" Young of the Bloomington Pantagraph officiated in his first of a record 12 consecutive state tournaments.

Finally, in 1919, the state tournament found a home in Champaign on the campus of the University of Illinois.

The first seven tournaments played on the home court of the "Fighting Illini" were in the Old Gym Annex.

When Huff Gym was opened in 1926, the emotional appeal — as well as the demand for tickets — of the tournament mushroomed. Granite City won there in 1940.

Since 1963, the university's concrete "flying saucer" — the Assembly Hall, with a seating capacity of 15,877 — has been the site of the state tournament.

Changes in playing conditions of the tournament have generally spawned increased fan interest and availability of tickets, since the first "sweet sixteen" in 1934.

In 1936, the series of competition was established to include tournament play at the district, regional, sectional and "sweet sixteen" levels.

In 1941, a one-year experiment with a four-team state final was conducted.

Next significant change came in 1958, when the present system of eight sectional encounters produced an "elite eight" set of finalists to advance to Champaign for the statewide televised state tournament.

The two-class system was initiated in 1972 with state-record-shattering Dolton (Thorndike) taking the Class AA (for schools with enrollments of 751 or more) title, and Lawrenceville claiming the Class A (for schools with enrollments of 750 or less) trophy — a prize that has become one of the most highly-sought schoolboy trophies in the nation.

Members of the first "sweet sixteen" field included champion Quincy, runnerup Thornton (Harvey), third-place Equality, fourth-place Moline, Champaign, Urbana, Streator, Peoria (High), Springfield, Lawrenceville, Marion, Freeport, Charleston, Centralia, Chicago (Marshall) and Chicago (Lane Tech).

The 14-team field for the last single-class competition included: champion Thorndike, runnerup Oak Lawn, third-place Danville, fourth-place Springfield (Lanphier), Benton, Rockford (Boylan), Quincy (Catholic Boys), Granite City, Chicago (Harlan), Kewanee, Elgin (Larkin), Nashville, Winnetka (New Trier East), Paris, Normal (University High), and Peoria.

(Woodruff).

First state champion crowned in Champaign was Rockford, coached by Frank Winters, which bounced Springfield 39-20.

First champion in Huff Gym was Coach Glenn Holme's Freeport Pretzels, who edged Canton, 24-18.

First champion in the Assembly Hall was Chicago (Carver) as Coach Larry Hawkins' Challengers, who took second the year before, beat Centralia 53-52 on a shot from the corner — at the horn — by tiny guard Anthony Smedley.

Only district champion to win the title, after smaller schools were placed into district competition in 1938, was the 1952 Hebron team, that boasted the tall and talented Jackson twins, Phil and Paul, along with 6-7½ center Bill Schulz. Hebron, a school with an enrollment of only 95, outscored Quincy by a 61-47 margin in overtime to take the championship, 64-59.

Other district teams to reach the final game were Bradwood in 1938 and the gigantic Cobden Appleknockers of 1968. Cobden, with a lineup that included the 6-11 Neal brothers, Chuck and Jim, and the equally big Smith cousins, Ken and Jim, lost to the Dave Golden-led Pekin Chinks, 50-45.

Perhaps the greatest game ever in the state tournament history was the 1945 quarterfinal match between Decatur and Galesburg. The Runnin' Reds finally captured a 72-72 overtime victory, but only after the score was tied or the lead changed hands an incredible 33 times. '33 — 33 — 33.

One of the most devastating performances by a team in a single game has to be Thorndike's 35-point (104-69) victory over Quincy in the first Class AA title game in 1972.

That victory for the Boyd Battlers was the site for the 1945 quarterfinal match between Decatur and Galesburg. The Runnin' Reds finally captured a 72-72 overtime victory, but only after the score was tied or the lead changed hands an incredible 33 times. '33 — 33 — 33.

Among the most memorable individual performances were those by Granite City's Andy Phillip in 1940; Dwight "Dike" Eddleman's single-handed victory for Centralia in 1942; and Max Hooper's total of 27 points in back-to-back title games to give Mt. Vernon the 1949 and 1950 championships.

Also, George Wilson's smooth-as-silk play at center for Chicago Marshall in 1958, and again in 1960; Collinsville's Bogie Redmon in the Kahoks' 32-0 season that concluded with an 84-50 win over Thornton in 1961; and the all-time tournament scoring performance of 6-9 Dave Robisch of Springfield in 1967.

In 1974, Lawrenceville became the first school since the origination of the state playoffs system to claim a second title in Class A competition. Coach Ron Felling's Indians, led by forward Rick Leighty, fought off Olmstead Marquette's comeback bid to win 54-53 in what was at the time the closest title game in Class A's brief history.

In 1976, when America celebrated its Bicentennial, fans in the Assembly Hall were treated to (1) the greatest all-time individual scoring performance in the long history of the tournament series; (2) a pair of championship games that will long be remembered for the dramatic, one-point conclusion.

Lawrenceville's senior guard Jay Shidder dazzled those in attendance and the state-wide television audience with games of 37, 48 and 45 points. Those scoring outbursts, plus a 27-point effort in the Charleston super-sectional, brought the "golden gunner" or "bionic boy" the all-time record of 157 points.

Needing 41 points to set the mark in the third-place game, Shidder became the darling of the sellout crowd as each of his shots sailed toward the basket. When he scored tournament point No. 153, the building rocked with approval.

Shidder's performance was only a prelude to a spine-tling title tilt between eventual champion Mt. Pulaski — a school that had grown in enrollment and cage talent through consolidation with nearby Elkhart — and Oneida (Rova). Rova led 35-24 at half time and 46-45 after three quarters.

Mt. Pulaski moved ahead 55-54 with 2:35 to play and then the lead changed four times in the next 113 seconds. Finally, with 43 seconds to go, Mt. Pulaski's super sophomore Jeff Clements — who scored 10 of his team's last 10 points — fired through the hoop to be the clincher.

Rova worked for one final shot, trying to get the ball to 6-center Dave Johnson, but could not master the Mt. Pulaski defense.

Finally, with six seconds left, Wright Peterson fired a 16-foot jump shot and missed, and Johnson had the rebound slip off his fingertips and out of bounds underneath the basket as time ran out.

One week later, Chicago (Morgan Park) of Class AA, trailing the entire game, nipped Aurora (West) 45-44. Laird Smith got the tip from teammate Levi Cobb on a jump ball situation and fired through a jump shot from the right of the free throw circle as the ball fell through the net as the scoreboard clock registered 0:00.

Trailing 33-26 after three quarters, Morgan Park put on fourth-quarter rally that already ranks as one of the greatest in all-time IHSA state tournament history although occurring only a year ago.

Water pollutants from land areas

Extensive violations of water pollution standards will occur throughout Illinois even after required levels of treatment are applied to discharges from sewage and industrial plants, it is being asserted.

However, many of the violations will not come from these specific (point) sources but from broad land surfaces (nonpoint sources). Lalit Sinha, an Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, water pollution control engineer, told members of a statewide urban stormwater task force meeting in Bloomington-Normal during the week.

Even though 99 per cent of planning program to determine the level of water pollutants coming from urban areas in rainstorm and snowmelt runoff. Steering committees to study local level problems have been formed so far in Peoria, Moline, Rockford, Springfield, Champaign-Urbana, Bloomington-Normal, Decatur and Kankakee.

EPA planning groups also are studying the incidence of water pollutants from agricultural lands, construction sites and mining areas.

A state plan to be developed largely by Illinois citizens through regional advisory committees will include land management practices, education programs, economic incentives and new regulations to control water pollutants.

The plan must be submitted to the governor for approval by October 1978. Municipal and industrial treatment works needed over the next 20 years also will be identified for each municipality with over 200 residents.

Task force members will study stream samples in the eight urban areas listed to pinpoint sources of urban water pollutants. In addition, a computer model developed by the Illinois State Water Survey will be used to test the effectiveness of control measures, such as street sweeping. Findings will be applied statewide.

Existing storm sewers will be studied to determine the best methods for treating urban runoff.

In many Illinois communities, storm sewers are separate from sanitary sewers, and no treatment is applied to stormwater runoff before it is discharged to rivers and streams.

Measures to control runoff from areas of future urban development will be analyzed.

Miss Hartman dies at 54

Miss Marie Hartman, 54, of 2910 Nameoki Road, a lifelong resident of Granite City, died at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

She had been ill five months and was hospitalized seven weeks.

Miss Hartman was employed 15 years as a computer systems analyst at Avcon in St. Louis. She was a member of the Lutheran faith.

Survivors include her mother, Mrs. Charlotte Hartman of Granite City; two brothers, John Hartman of Granite City and Jacob Hartman of Richmond Heights, Mo.; and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Leick of Gary, Ind.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

NEW LAW IS APPROVED. Governor James R. Thompson (left) signs a deed to transfer three acres of state-owned land in Maryville to the city for construction of a senior citizen activity complex. "There is no single group of Illinois citizens more deserving than our seniors," Thompson said. "Illinois senior citizens have every right to expect their government — which they have supported with their taxes over the years — to also do something for them." The property was owned by the Department of Children and Family Services but was no longer used by the department. Provisions for the transfer were approved by the General Assembly in 1975 in a bill sponsored by Senator Sam M. Vadalabene (right), (D-Edwardsville).

Crisis help offered low-income families

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission is operating an energy crisis intervention program for low-income residents of Madison County. The program is intended to help poor people whose health and welfare are endangered by the current severe winter and the high cost of heating homes.

For persons meeting federal income guidelines, the EOC has a limited amount of funds available to make loans and grants when emergencies arise, according to Elaine Caldwell, spokesman for the agency.

She said an emergency would be when a household is about to have utility service disconnected, or, in the case of heating fuel, the tank is empty or near empty and the family does not have money to pay for fuel service.

To be eligible for this type of assistance, families must come within 126 per cent of federal poverty guidelines. For a family of four, this would mean income no greater than $6,313 per year.

Applications may be completed at EOC's Lovejoy Community Center, 1120 Union St., Alton (465-8871), or at the Tri-Cities neighborhood Service Center, 145 Madison Ave., Madison (481-7624).

Utility customers can also receive other forms of relief under an arrangement between major utility companies and the Illinois Commerce Commission. According to ICC Chairman Marvin Lieberman, customers who cannot pay their current bills in full and are faced with cut-off of service will have the option of making a payment equal to the amount billed during a like period last year and paying anything above that amount on an installment plan. Payments can be spread out over the spring and summer months. Utilities have promised their cooperation in the program, which is an informal agreement between the utilities and the ICC. Both Union Electric and Illinois Power have agreed to participate.

Under current ICC regulations, customers experiencing unusually high bills because of previous estimates, errors or extreme fluctuations in consumption may request a utility company to bill their accounts on a budget payment plan of 11 equal monthly installments, with a twelfth installment reserved for billing adjustment. The utilities have pledged to notify their customers of this provision and of the recent agreement with the ICC.

Family friends said he regained consciousness at 3 a.m. Tuesday and recognized relatives. He was sitting up and talking, but dazed, Wednesday.

His condition is described as a great improvement over Monday night, when he was reported near death three times. The possibility of limited heart damage is being watched carefully, friends said.

Funeral services for Mrs. Hall were held today at a funeral home in Providence, R.I., with burial in that city.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Craig Loomis, 57 Longwood Ave., Providence, and also is survived by two children, Craig Hall, five, and Crystal Hall, four.

Dr. Peterson appointed

Governor James R. Thompson announced Wednesday that Dr. Paul Q. Peterson, dean of the School of Public Health at the University of Illinois Medical Center, Chicago, has been named director of the Illinois Department of Public Health. The post pays $44,000 a year.

Dr. Peterson, 64, entered private medical practice in McLeanboro, Ill., after receiving his M.D. degree from the University of Illinois in 1938. He became dean in 1971, following 16 years' service with the Public Health Service, a division of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Seek two missing boys

Two young cousins have been missing from their homes more than a week and the parents are seeking information on where they are and whether they are safe.

Danny Hayes, 14, of 2604 Kirkpatrick Homes, and John Holik of 2608 Kirkpatrick Homes, who is having his 15th birthday today, were last seen together Wednesday night, Feb. 18.

There have been some reports the boys may have been seen together in Granite City since then, but their parents said they are worried and urged them to contact their homes.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of the two boys is urged to contact the parents or notify the Granite City Police at 877-6111.

grouched by your fine department crews.

"If this work were done by an outside contractor, you could already anticipate an approximate cost to your taxpayers of over $200,000 plus chemicals. You can estimate how this figure would mushroom over the next five to 10 years.

"I not only thank you for purchasing your equipment from Cues, but for helping our industry prove to municipalities everywhere that cities can—with capable, foresighted management—resolve their own sewer problems at tremendous cost savings to the taxpayers."

Copies were forwarded by Mayor Schuler to Community Resource Commission members Carl Mathias, Paul Lichtenberger, Von Dee Crane, Arthur Griffin, Nicholas Veeder, Chester Baker, Carl Ranft, Lance Callis, Weiden Burch, Avery Schermer and Henry Karandjoff.

The mayor commented to the commission members "I consider the enclosed letter to be of sufficient interest to support your recommendations to the Granite City Council."

"It is significant to note that the rehabilitation of the sanitary sewers in Granite City is being accomplished without any increase in taxes, as was originally suggested."

"The City of Granite City shall always be grateful for your aid in resolving this most difficult problem."

Phone

Nov. 4, the date held by the phone company as the expiration date of the old franchise.

This difference involves a cash refund of monies paid by the city for telephone service during the period the new franchise agreement has been involved in negotiations. Since expiration of the old franchise, the city has paid for all of its phone service.

Whitmer noted that the Sept. 4 expiration date maintained by the city would mean the city would receive refunds for six months bill payments, as compared to refunds for four months under the Nov. 4 expiration date specified by the phone company.

Under the old franchise the city received 24 free phone lines on basic rates. All toll calls are paid by the city. At a rate of $17.50 per month for each service, a figure applied by the utility in determining basic costs for the municipality, the city therefore received $200 per month in services.

Since the city's monthly bill now totals $1,400 per month (on an average), the city still paid more than $900 monthly in phone bills under the old franchise.

The new franchise agreement provides the city with 102 free phone lines or services worth $1,785 per month. This would be sufficient to pay all of the city's phone service on its present scope of operation, it was noted. However, the city plans to add a number of services which would increase the present billing.

Whitmer said he will not vote in favor of the franchise unless the refunds for the negotiating period are made retroactive to the Sept. 4 expiration date.

The franchise proposal also covers the maintenance and installation of services, erection of poles, relocation procedures and other procedural terms.

In a related action, the council Tuesday night approved an application by the phone company for a permit to excavate three open trenches necessary to installation of phone facilities for the city's new burglar alarm system. The new lines will extend from a point 130 feet north of Niedringhaus Avenue on the west side of Edison Avenue, extending to the east side of Edison and north to the City Hall.

An approved was an application for an excavation permit by the Illinois Power Co., noting that five openings between the curb and the sidewalk on the south side from the alley east of Washington to the west of Washington.

The application said the openings are to be made to retire four-inch gas mains in the alley in preparation for construction work in the St. Elizabeth Hospital expansion.

general assistance office area, there will be a conference room, a main office, a private office for the supervisor, an employees' lounge, a reception room, a file room, a mimeograph room and restrooms.

The larger portion of the building, which will be for the use of the public and senior citizens, will contain a large auditorium hall, a serving kitchen, a 16 by 20 foot social room and public restrooms.

Parking will present a problem during large gatherings, as there is room on the lot for only 39 autos and the remainder will have to find spaces on the streets.

A canopy over the entire front of the building will allow persons to walk out of the weather from the sides of the building to the main entryway, according to Henry Gabriel, architect of the building.

"We are very proud we will be able to have such a fine facility in which to house township functions while still providing ample space for public and senior citizens' activities," Granite City Township Supervisor Nelson Hagauer stated.

"We are also proud that the construction of this building is being financed entirely by federal revenue sharing grants we have accumulated and there will be no direct cost to the taxpayers."

The building will save the township a great deal of rent money now being paid monthly for the supervisor's office, the assessor's office and the present senior citizens' center.

The school district also will save the rent it presently is paying for the special education office. All of this money will be saved by the construction of this building using revenue sharing funds, Hagauer concluded.

motor vehicles, that numerous properties in the area fronting the said Johnson Road on either side of 2021 Johnson Road are presently zoned commercial.

The rezoning would not be contrary to public health or morals and "would, in fact, benefit the aforesaid city of Granite City," the petition added.

Notice of the suit was presented to the aldermen during the regular council meeting Tuesday night. There was discussion of the proceedings except an inquiry by Alderman Emerald Dawes who noted that five persons voted in favor of the rezoning and asked if they are subject to the proceedings also.

City Attorney George Filcott said that all aldermen as members of the council would be a party to the action because it was the council, as a whole, that rejected the rezoning.

The City Council during the past year has received mounting protests to rezoning for food establishments, usually by residents living in the neighborhoods of places proposed as restaurant sites.

Council members, in a case similar to the Taco Bell rejection, turned down a request several weeks ago for rezoning of another site.

Developers proposed construction of an Arthur Treacher's Fish & Chips Restaurant in that instance.

Services held for Mrs. Schroeder

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p.m. Monday at an Edwardsville funeral home for Mrs. Mary Schroeder, 96, of 834 Hill Ave., Edwardsville, stepmother of a former Granite City resident.

She died Saturday, Feb. 19, at the Madison County Nursing Home, Edwardsville.

Mrs. Schroeder was a member of the Faith Baptist Church in Edwardsville.

Her husband, Joseph Schroeder, died in 1969.

Survivors include one stepdaughter, Mrs. Carolyn Childers of Dunnellon, Fla., formerly of Granite City, and four step-grandchildren.

Burial was in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

something can be worked out," Mayor Schuler wrote.

Partney had written, "The current campaign for mayor has generated a tremendous amount of interest among the voters of Granite City. In an effort to fully inform the perspective voters of all of the issues and the positions of the candidates, I have arranged for a series of neighborhood forums throughout our city."

"I know you will want to participate in these informational appearances."

Listing the proposed four sites and dates, Partney continued, "The costs of these locations total $89. It seems appropriate that you should bear half of the costs of obtaining these locations. That sum would be $44.50."

"I hereby challenge you to appear at these locations and times so that the voters of Granite City may have an opportunity to be fully informed concerning the issues of this campaign and so that they may question the candidates for the very important office of the mayor of Granite City, Ill. Your immediate reply would be greatly appreciated."

Revocation sought against 'slumlord'

For the first time, the Illinois Department of Registration and Education has initiated action to revoke the license of a real estate broker for renting apartments in slum buildings.

The action was initiated by filing a formal complaint against a Skokie real estate broker for renting apartments in four buildings which allegedly contained "numerous Municipal Code violations" and had conditions which "endangered the health and safety of inhabitants."

The complaint alleges that by renting the apartments when he knew they were in an unsafe and unhealthy condition, the owner violated the property management rule of the department's rules and regulations for administration of the Real Estate Brokers and Salesmen Act.

"The action could have a significant effect on the management of slum buildings throughout the state," said John G. Anderson, acting director of the department.

Bureau of the Budget Director Robert L. Mandeville has announced the appointment of L. W. "Bud" Murray Jr. as the new director of the Governor's Office of Manpower and Human Development.

Murray, 37, has been an associate professor of administration at Sangamon State University, Springfield, since 1974.

During fiscal year 1978, starting this July 1, the Office of Manpower, with a staff of 130 in 19 state areas, will oversee the use of about $45.5 million in funds under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA), federal monies requiring no matching state dollars.

The Illinois Department of Revenue reports that more than 4.5 million persons will file state income tax returns this year.

Officials advise persons who owe tax to print their Social Security number on the face of the check or money order used to pay it.

If the return and check are separated, the Social Security number will assist the department in locating the tax return quickly and help insure that each family gets credit for its tax payment.

Secretary of State Alan Dixon has reminded Illinois motorists last week that 1977 license plates must be displayed on all passenger cars, motorcycles, recreational vehicles, trailers and campers by Tuesday, March 1.

Passenger plates may be purchased at more than 430 financial institutions throughout Illinois, including the Quad-City banks.

Illinois Commerce Commission chairman Marvin Lieberman has announced a program to help residential natural gas and electric customers defer costs of higher-than-normal gas and electric bills during the remainder of the winter.

Lieberman announced that customers who cannot pay their current bills in full and are faced with cut-off of service will have the option of making a payment equal to the amount billed during a like period last year and paying anything above that amount on the installment plan.

He stressed that other arrangements can also be made for any individual hardship case, and he said that the Commission Consumer Protection staff is available in both Springfield and Chicago to help anyone who has difficulty making arrangements with his or her gas or electric company.

Applications for turkey permits will be accepted Feb. 21-March 1 for 1977 turkey hunting season.

Hunting will be allowed in four Southern Illinois counties — Alexander, Jackson, Pope and Union — from April 20 to May 1.

All applicants must use of State camping guide listings

Owners and managers of state operated and privately registered campgrounds are being asked to contact the Illinois Office of Tourism by Feb. 28 if they wish their facilities listed in the new edition of the Illinois Camping.

Only those campgrounds holding a recreation license from the Illinois Department of Public Health, a county or a municipality will be included in the booklet. Qualified campgrounds may forward a mailing address, phone number and the name of a contact representative to: Camping Guide, Illinois Office of Tourism, 205 W. Wacker Drive, Room 1100, Chicago, Ill. 60606.

Facilities will then be sent a registration form which must be completed in full and returned to the Office of Tourism to obtain a listing in the Camping Guide. Campgrounds whose licenses have been revoked will not be considered.

The booklet features a detailed glossary of campground information arranged according to the four Illinois regions and their respective counties. Location maps, camping fees, travel highlights and individual campground specifics are also noted.

Crime reporting explained at Rotary meeting

Definitions of crimes and proper ways of reporting crimes were topics discussed by Officer Glenn Wright at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Granite City Rotary Club in the YMCA.

Granite City Rotarians in cooperation with the Madison-Venice Rotary Club, have been co-sponsoring a "Crime Blocker" program in the Quad-Cities.

Persons completing the orientation are issued a personal "Crime Blocker" identification card and number that is on file at local police departments.

The anti-crime program will be presented for any group contacting the local police station and requesting it.

Rotary President Steve Bristol announced that the Rotary-sponsored Prayer Breakfast will be held at 7:30 a.m. Monday at Charlie's Restaurant. Bristol said that persons concerned with the workmen's compensation laws are invited to be the guests of the Pepsi Cola Alton Bottling Co. Reservations may be made by contacting Bristol at 877-2006.

Bristol reminded the members of the Tuesday March 8 Chili day. The serving hours will be from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. and from 3 p.m. until 7 p.m. at the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 30th Street and Delmar Avenue.

New leader of conservatives

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Rep. Philip M. Crane of Illinois, new chairman of the American Conservative Union, may be unalterably opposed to President Carter in principle but he agrees with him on one thing.

"It is an article of conservative faith that the federal government is too big and too centralized."

Pres. Carter is asking Congress to restore executive authority to reorganize the government.

Under the authority enjoyed by President Nixon until Congress stripped him of the power during the Watergate crisis, Presidential orders changing the bureaucracy took automatic effect unless either house of Congress vetoed them within 60 days.

"We might be able to cooperate with the Carter administration," Crane said in an interview, discussing Mr. Carter's oft-repeated campaign commitment to prune the bureaucracy.

There would be a certain irony in conservative Republican support for this particular Carter pledge. He attaches great importance to it with the comment that it was "one of the major reasons I was elected."

On national defense, however, the ACU is intransigent, vows Crane.

When he was elected to succeed M. Stanton Evans, syndicated columnist and CBS radio commentator, as ACU chairman at this month's fourth annual Conservative Political Action Conference, Cong. Crane said he is "eager to take on the challenge facing ACU—and all American conservatives—in the Carter era."

Elaborating in the interview, Crane said ACU's "number one priority is the question of defense and negotiations with the Soviet Union."

Crane sees a "clear and present danger" in Mr. Carter's proposed defense cuts of $5 billion to $6 billion and his apparent eagerness for a new round of strategic arms limitation talks with Russia.

Crane believes the United States has "indisputably slipped behind" the Soviet Union in conventional military forces and strategic missile ratios while the Atlantic Alliance's NATO arms show a similar disparity during a period of "growing danger in Europe."

Crane was echoing the warning of Ronald Reagan, whose Presidential campaign he led in Illinois and who was the chief speaker at the conference held in Washington.

Reagan told the 550 conservatives that national security is the "only major question on the agenda of national priorities."

M. Stanton Evans, Crane's immediate predecessor, was ACU chairman for three years. During his tenure, conservatives grew restive about their election failures and talked of forming a third party.

Evans and Jeffrey Kane, chairman of the Young Americans for Freedom, told a press conference, however, that the third-party option is "on the back burner" for now.

Crane, on the contrary, apparently will be a more activist conservative leader and spokesman.

He said he wants "to beef up" the potential interest in the 38 state ACU organizations and hold regional conferences similar to the national one just concluded.

ACU, he says candidly, is looking "for new members who want to get actively involved" in the issues.

Automatic pay raises assailed

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record

Washington Bureau

Congress this week got an automatic pay raise of $12,900—more than many Americans earn in a year—without a record vote. But House Speaker Thomas O'Neill strongly defends the increase, noting that most legislators in Washington have to maintain a home there and another home in their district.

This is the third time the procedure has worked in eight years, to the tune of a 7% per cent increase for national lawmakers.

In 1969, their salaries went from $30,000 to $42,500 for a 42 per cent raise. They rose from $42,500 to $44,600 for a five per cent gain four years later, and now have climbed from $44,600 to $57,500 for a 29 per cent increase.

They take pay increases without an up-or-down vote because a 10-year-old law provides for a civilian commission to recommend pay levels every four years for members of Congress, federal judges, cabinet officers and the top echelon of the executive branch.

The President can adopt or amend the recommended pay levels. He then forwards his version to Congress. If neither House votes it within 30 days, the salary schedule takes effect. Just before he left office, President Ford sent up his salary schedules. The Carter administration did not change them. These are the increases accorded.

The Senate had the first chance at a veto Feb. 2 during debate on Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson's committee reorganization plan. Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., sought to offer a resolution of disapproval as a non-germane amendment to the reorganization resolution.

The Allen amendment was killed, 56 yes to 42 no, on a motion to table. Both Stevenson and Sen. Charles H. Percy voted yes to table the Allen amendment. Stevenson because he did not want Senate reorganization amendment to the reorganization resolution. said he "deplores" the increase. McClory, however, is not convinced that the mechanism established in 1967 is entirely bad. He believes congress should vote on its increases.

Rep. Tom Corcoran is opposed to the raise and "even more so that it is going through without a record vote."

Rep. Henry Hyde, like McClory, concurs with Rhodes that there should be a record vote.

"We have to have greater respect for the intelligence of the American people than to believe that they will not see through this charade," Rhodes said when he tried to get action on the disapproval resolution. "We must have a greater respect for the dignity of this body."

Rep. John N. Erlenborn is for an increase but not automatically without a vote. Rep. Paul Findley, who has testified against the increase, called it "outrageous" and observed, "Congress is kidding itself if it thinks the country is going to forget this."

Rep. Robert McClory, who supported Rhodes on the floor, said he "deplores" the increase. McClory, however, is not convinced that the mechanism established in 1967 is entirely bad. He believes congress should vote on its increases.

ERA topic at Wilson

A program on "How the ERA Amendment Will Affect the Educational Systems and Youth" was discussed by two guest speakers at the Wilson School PTA meeting, last week.

Dr. Gertraude Wittig, professor of biology at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, gave her views in favor of the amendment and Mrs. Elaine Medendorp, Stop ERA Chairman of Illinois, spoke against the issue.

The meeting was opened with a flag ceremony by members of Cub Pack 122 and Boy Scout Troop 122, led by John Dawson followed by everyone singing, "God Bless America."

Special recognition was accorded both groups in observance of National Scout Month.

President Mrs. Dorothy Baker presided at the session and reported the Area PTA Council awards banquet will be held Thursday at South High School. Registration will begin at 5:30 p.m. and dinner at 6:30 p.m. Those attending from the unit will be Mrs. Baker, Phyllis Geske, Olivia Parrish, Barbara Moniz, Ted Vrenick, Linda McGee, Nancy Nemeth, Harriet Evans and Mary Jane Wasyiak.

Parents of sixth grade students, who have their last child enrolled at the school and who contributed their time and efforts to the PTA and school, were honored during the meeting.

Honorees included Mrs. Betty Briggs, Mrs. Genevieve Hellrich, Mrs. Evelyn Elmore, Don Ogden, Mrs. Wanda Ogden, Tom Teitloff and Mrs. Sue Teitloff.

Mrs. Olivia Parrish presented a slate of officers to be elected at the March 15 meeting. Jerry Christ, neighborhood commissioner for the Boy Scouts, presented the charter to the PTA and noted Donald Ogden serves as scoutmaster.

The executive board will meet at 7 p.m. March 1 at the school, according to Mrs. Baker.

Minerva Club aids student

The Minerva Woman's Club completed plans to send a young man to Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, this summer to attend an environmental study workshop following a report on the subject by Mrs. Margaret Rehagen of the club's education committee.

Members also agreed to send a donation to the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council's annual fund drive.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Ida Weiss. She served refreshments after the session to Mesdames Barbara Barr, Beverly Benoit, Phyllis Brusati, Zola Burgess, Cathy Busch, Shirley Goff, Jo Anne Kraus, Arlene Laub, Faye Mercer, Pat Merz, Clara Paker, Charlotte Rapp, Peggy Solberger, Jo Anne Terrell, June Van Horn, and Miss Elaine Shipoff.

Past Matrons host dinner meeting

The Past Matrons Club of North Hope Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, gathered at Petri's Cafe last week for a business and social meeting.

Mrs. Carol Hildebrand was in charge of the business session and Mrs. Lou Anderson and Mrs. Marilyn Whitworth served as hostesses for the evening.

After dinner games were played and prizes awarded to Mrs. Ann L. Mueller, Mrs. Hildebrand, Mrs. Evelyn Harris and Mrs. Louise Cook.

Also present were Bess Weiss, Marie Hoeckstra, Donna Woodard, Thelma Jahnson and a guest Charlotte Root.

MRS. MARIE PERRY ENTERTAINS CLUB

Mesdames Myrtle Bruns, Theresa Walkenbach, Vi Edwards and Marvel Clover received prizes in pinocle games at a meeting of the Monday Afternoon Club, this week.

Hosting the semi-monthly meeting was Mrs. Marie Perry, 2527 Hodges Ave.

Also present were Mrs. Margaret Richards, Mrs. Leona Parente and Mrs. Pauline Canham.

Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club is preparing to assist working women in the Wood River, Hartford, Roxana and South Roxana area establish a new BPW club.

The first meeting of a special committee to help form the new chapter took place last week at the Metro-East Sanitary District Office, 1801 Madison Ave.

Mrs. Judith McCann, membership chairman for the Granite City club, arranged the meeting and presided.

A special guest was Mrs. Rosemary Hardwick of Carrollton, District 14 chairman for the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc.

Mrs. Hardwick addressed the group, offering to "support your efforts in helping to establish a new club."

"I know you have worked very hard this year and I think it is wonderful that you are willing to share your BPW experiences with others," the district officer said.

Assisting Mrs. McCann in presenting detailed procedures to follow in organizing a new club were Mrs. Sylvia Wright, Granite City BPW Club president, and Miss Annelise Smith and Mrs. Pauline Weir, past presidents.

Fifteen working women are needed to start a new BPW club, and 25 members are required to secure a charter from the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Mrs. McCann stated.

Emphasis should be placed in disseminating as much information as possible, regarding BPW objectives, purposes and programs, to afford prospective members sufficient knowledge prior to organizing formally or joining the federation, it was agreed.

The wide scope of BPW interests and its position of non-competition with other professional groups also must be stressed, the committee decided.

Mrs. McCann said five or six women from the Wood River area have expressed a desire to form a BPW club, and the names of 12 women are available who are interested in joining.

Personal interviews with prospective members are being arranged and letters concerning formation of the club will be mailed shortly to various business firms, school districts, industries, hospitals and other agencies in that region.

"The groundwork has been laid; the footwork comes next," Mrs. McCann said.

"We have a great deal to do before the proposed chartering date in September. It is important also we meet very soon with the women already contacted to support and encourage their enthusiasm," she added.

It was suggested the Wood River women be invited to the Granite City club's April dinner program and a meeting planned in Wood River to initiate a recruitment drive.

Special advisers to the new club and assignments to help set up temporary committees were announced at the meeting.

Granite City BPW members named, included: Lillian Marzluft, programs; Becky Slate and Hazel Rollins, finances; Louise Smith, BPW Foundation (scholarship program); Pauline Weir and Valerie Evenden, public relations; Rosalie Portelli, legislation; Carolyn Koester, Young Careerist; Mrs. Weir, nominations; Helene Buschhoff and Mrs. Weir, bylaws; Ruth Walk, treasurer; Elsie Elmore, secretary; and Florence Moore, recording secretary.

A meeting of the special committee was tentatively set for Tuesday, March 8, at the Metro-East Sanitary District office. Two BPW state officers will be invited to attend.

Pack 24 cubes tour hospital

A tour of St. Elizabeth Hospital was taken last week by Den 8 cubes of Pack 24, sponsored by Johnson School PTA.

The group was escorted through the building by Mrs. Rebecca Slate.

The boys visited the x-ray department, general offices, emergency rooms and the morgue.

Mrs. Vicki Hergert, den leader, was assisted by Mrs. Linda Fanning and Mrs. Carol Padgett.

Cub Scouts taking part were Kelly Padgett, Michael Fenoglio, Tim Davis, James Jarmen, Bradley Arnold, Mike Lynch, Bobbie Fanning and Derek Humphrey. Guests were Robin Fanning and Terri Padgett.

YMCA Sr. Citizens hear Rev. Cope

The Rev. Eugene Cope, pastor of the City Temple Assembly of God Church, was the guest speaker at a covered dish luncheon meeting of the YMCA Senior Citizens held during the weekend at the "Y."

President Lucille Pierce opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer and pledge to the flag.

She announced the next business meeting will be held Friday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and game sessions are conducted each Wednesday at 1 p.m. and any senior citizen in the area is invited to attend.

A new member, Clara Peterson, was introduced. Dinner was served to 52 members and guests after the meeting.

ROOTS OF CHURCH TRACED ON TV SHOW

"This Far By Faith" is an hour-long film exploring the evolution of the black church in America from its roots on the African continent through the slavery era, Reconstruction and into the 20th Century, was presented Tuesday night on KFTC-TV, Channel 9.

The first part of the program deals with the cultural traditions brought to this country by slaves, and how those traditions fused with and were transformed by the experience of blacks as slaves.

The second half includes examples of how this cultural fusion was expressed in Dixieland jazz and blues. Central narrator Brock Peters is joined in the film by Roscoe Lee Browne, Beah Richards, Glynn Thurman and the Edwin Hawkins Singers. Author James Baldwin and Broadway Director Geoffrey Holder ("The Wiz") are interviewed.

Church Women representatives' lunch

A luncheon for representatives to Church Women United in the Quad-Cities (CWU) was hosted last week at Central Christian Church by the group's executive board. Mrs. Ron Pennell, CWU president, welcomed the participants and special guests.

The Rev. Dennis Rutledge, pastor of the host church, who extended greetings, was introduced by Mrs. Marion Pierson, vice-president. Mrs. Ellen Wilson and Mrs. Judy Russell, Ecumenical Concerns chairman, opened the luncheon. The blessing was offered by Mrs. Sharon Rush. "A Picnic in February," the luncheon theme, was accentuated with finger foods served on checked tablecloths. Flowers and butterflies created the colorful centerpiece.

The Rev. Jerome Jackson, pastor of Mount Nebo Missionary Baptist Church, 800 Jefferson St., Madison, was introduced and formally accepted an invitation to host the "World Day of Prayer," scheduled Friday, March 4, at his church. Mrs. Barbara Madison from Mount Nebo Church urged all churches to send representatives to the program.

Registration will take place at 9:30 a.m. March 4 during a coffee hour. The services will commence at 10 a.m. "World Day of Prayer," the most widely observed ecumenical celebration sponsored by Church Women United, is observed in more than 2,000 local communities across the United States. Mrs. Pierson was in charge of the business session and Mrs. Dorothea Rivenburgh, secretary, distributed new directories, listing the representatives and their church. Churches were reminded by Mrs. Nan Henderson, treasurer, their annual contributions are vitally needed at this time. She said the CWU treasury is "low" and aid is required to support the layette program. Mrs. Jeanne Beatty, Layette Project chairman, reviewed the programs history and explained the support offered by volunteer churches in the past. "is desperately needed at present."

The Friends in Learning program, a CWU tutoring service operating at Washington School, is seeking volunteers to work with the students. Mrs. Alice Hunsinger, chairman announced.

Reading assistance is a prime part of the program, but volunteers will find that many young children need someone with whom to talk, the chairman said.

Those taking part in the tutoring project need only donate one hour each week, at their convenience. Mrs. Hunsinger said.

The Red Cross bloodmobile will be stationed at Concordia Lutheran Church on March 28 and March 29, Mrs. Helen Baran, Blood Program chairman, reported.

Although the largest donations come from local church members, this program now supports the entire community and needs more help from individuals, Mrs. Baran advised.

A goal of 100 blood units has been set for the two-day drive. The blood collected will be processed at the Red Cross Blood Center, which services the blood needs of 168 hospitals in the bi-state region.

Reports also were given by Mrs. Rush, Prayer Circle chairman, Mrs. Grace Lening, Senior Service chairman and Mrs. Pam Peters, CROP Service chairman.

Mrs. Wilson announced the April 21 luncheon will take place at Central Christian Church, when all clergymen and representatives will be entertained.

Reservation may be made before April 14 by writing Mrs. Wilson at 3245 Kilarney Drive, Granite City.

Evaluations slips were distributed to those present and new projects were discussed. Mrs. Pierson offered the closing prayer.

Deaf ministry at Mt. Zion Baptist

Mount Zion General Baptist Church, 21st and Benton streets, honored its deaf people at a special banquet held in the church fellowship hall.

Mrs. Eileen Hall, leader of the church's deaf ministry, was in charge of the program featuring singing favorite hymns followed by devotions given by the Rev. Donald Clark, host pastor.

Entertainment was under the direction of Mrs. Betty Warren. After the program sandwiches and desserts were served to 35 people.

Mrs. Hall conducts sign language classes each Monday at 7 p.m. at the church. Anyone interested in the classes and needing transportation are advised to call Rev. Clark at 877-1503 or 876-6888 or Mrs. Hall at 451-4861, it was announced.

Great-grandparents of the new arrivals on the paternal side are Mr. and Mrs. Allen Waggoner and Mr. and Mrs. George Heath, all of Granite City.

The maternal great grandmother is Mrs. Lucille Ralston of Ferguson, Mo.

Evening of music for elderly

An evening of music and fellowship for senior citizens and disabled veterans is being planned by a citizen's committee with funds being collected through donations from businessmen and political leaders.

All senior citizens and disabled veterans are being invited to the event, which is to be held from 6 to 10 p.m. Saturday, March 26, in the Long Lake Fire Hall on Pontoon Road in Pontoon Beach, according to committee chairman Freeman L. Cline.

Entertainment will include Phil Spence, professional musician and composer, a music teacher and president of L.P. Music Co., who will play the organ.

J. W. Apperson, a Granite City police officer who performs magic as a hobby, also will perform.

Norma Jean Lawson, music teacher and former pianist with the Barney Barrell Quartet, a gospel group, also will play the organ, and Kim Asbeck, an accomplished violinist now at the age of 8, also will play.

Miss Asbeck has played since she was 3 and has played with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra as part of a guest string group from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Diane Palerino, a vocalist, also will entertain during the event.

The organ is being offered for the evening by the National School of Music and the hall has been donated by the Long Lake Fire Department.

Refreshments will be served by courtesy of the Pepsi Cola Bottling Co. in Alton.

There will be no admission charged senior citizens or disabled veterans, but others are requested to bring a senior citizen or disabled veteran with them to gain admission.

The event is being made possible through donations from local officials and candidates in Granite City, Pontoon Beach, Granite City Township and Chouteau Township as well as citizens who volunteered donations.

Every cent donated to this project will be used for the project and if there is any money left over, it will be turned over to some program to aid senior citizens," Cline said.

We are setting up this night simply as an enjoyable experience for senior citizens and disabled veterans. It will not cost them a penny and I think we have some fine entertainment to provide an enjoyable evening for everyone who attends.

"We want to be sure that every senior citizen in the Quad-City area, whether or not he is a member of any organization, knows he is welcome at this event. We want to fill the hall and do our best to make this a memorable evening," Cline said.

He added, "For those who are not senior citizens or disabled veterans, the cost of admission will be one senior citizen or disabled veteran."

Technical, vocational advisers at North

Students at Granite City High School North are having the opportunity today to meet and talk with representatives of 15 or more technical and vocational schools.

The special program is part of "Career Awareness Month" at the local high school.

Activities began this morning at 8:30 and are continuing through 3:30 p.m.

In addition to personnel from the individual training schools, representatives from all branches of the U.S. Armed Forces and a counselor from the Illinois State Placement Office also are present.

Among the schools taking part in "Future Education Day" at North is Gem City College, School of Horology at Quincy.

Horology is the science of measuring time and the art of constructing instruments to indicate time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. (Joy) Taylor, instructors at Gem City College, displayed watches, engravings and jewelry and explained to students the training program offered at the local high school.

Mrs. Taylor said the School of Horology has 250 young men and women studying watch and clock making, hand engraving and jewelry on an individual basis.

"This is a field in which there is a great demand for people," the teacher said.

Fashion Merchandising courses also are available at the school, which include classes in modeling, fashion designing, advertising and window display and store management.

Gem City College has a contractual working agreement with John Wood Community College in Quincy, whereby students can register at John Wood and take their training at Gem City, allowing students to be trained at a reduced tuition.

Mrs. Taylor told the local young people that other schools represented at today's program include:

Dental and medical assistants; accounting; executive secretary; modeling; physical therapist assistants; mortuary science; laboratory technicians; pharmacy; aeronautics; automobile body repair; diesel-engine mechanics; and air conditioning, among others.

Guests were served lunch at 11:30 a.m. today in the Food Laboratory at North High by members of Mrs. Mildred Collins' Food 4 class.

Seek gun club closing

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency this week formally charged the Edwardsville Gun Club, located in the Dunlap Lake Subdivision, with creating a general nuisance because of gunfire exceeding the sound levels established by Illinois Pollution Control Board (PCB) regulations.

The club is operating in an established residential neighborhood with many of the residences on the eastern shore of Dunlap Lake as close as 700 feet from the club, separated by an inlet running between the club and the residences, the EPA alleged.

Most of the distances cited in the complaint are over water, said to offer little absorption for noise. Citizen complaints have been numerous, according to John S. Moore, EPA noise pollution control manager.

Shooting sessions during the day, continuing into the evening, especially during the summer, with weekend shooting the most popular, it was contended.

Chief complaints by citizens are that the gun club interferes with their enjoyment of the outdoors, that land values are deflated and that the area is "like a war zone on Sundays."

PCB regulations state that "no person shall cause or allow the emission of sound beyond the boundaries of his property so as to cause noise pollution in Illinois."

Noise pollution is defined in the PCB rules as "the emission of sound that unreasonably interferes with the enjoyment of life or with any lawful business or activity."

Moore commented, "Most people don't realize it, but noise harms us. Already about 18 million Americans suffer from the adverse effects of noise. Noise can increase blood pressure, cause emotional stress and lead to inability to sleep."

The agency is asking the PCB to order the club to cease operation and to impose a fine of $10,000 for the initial violation and $1,000 for each day the violation continues.

The office of the Illinois attorney general will act as counsel for the agency.

City to accept 23rd Street for maintenance

An agreement between Granite City and the Illinois Department of Transportation under which Granite City agrees to take over maintenance of 23rd Street from Nameeki Road to Highway 162 after it is improved by the state will be approved by the City Council Tuesday night.

A resolution to establish the street as part of the municipal street system was approved unanimously.

The state plans to widen and resurface Highway 162 from Nameeki Road to Route 111, and also will improve 23rd Street from Highway 162 to Nameeki Road. Twenty-third street is now a state roadway.

The improvements projected by DOT will be made at no cost to the city, but Granite City was asked by the state to take over the stretch of 23rd street for maintenance purposes after the improvement work is done.

Guests were served lunch at 11:30 a.m. today in the Food Laboratory at North High by members of Mrs. Mildred Collins' Food 4 class.

Chief of Police Frank Dutko presented a report on police activities during January 1977, and said, "I would like to say we are off to a good start. Our January crime figures compared to January 1976 show a 46 per cent reduction in crimes."

Major areas of reduction are (1976 figure first): burglaries, 16-10, theft 21-8, auto theft 7-4, robbery 3-0, assault and battery the same, 5-5.

Statistics in the seven major areas of crime showed 52 during January 1976, compared to 27 last month.

Total fines received was $780. Police answered 141 burglar alarm calls, most of which were false alarms set off accidentally.

Madison seeks grant for railroad spur at industrial park

There is a reasonable chance that the city of Madison's request to the Economic Development Administration (EDA) for $180,000 to build a railroad spur into the Maersk Industrial Park will be approved, according to Mayor Mike Sasyk.

Mayor Sasyk told the Tuesday evening meeting of the Madison City Council, "There will be a meeting with the EDA on Friday, March 11, in Chicago to discuss the grant. This is a good sign and means we have moved our request through Springfield."

The railroad spur is needed, according to the mayor, to attract another industry that is interested in locating in the park.

Mayor Sasyk said, "We are having a serious problem with insurance rates on liability coverage for our vehicles. Although we are covered now, our rates are due to triple. I would like to ask the aldermanic committee on insurance to meet with me and Al Hudzik our controller to see what will be the best route to follow."

Mistrial in rape case

Chief Circuit Judge Harold Clark has declared a mistrial due to a deadlocked jury in the rape cases against three St. Louis men who had been charged with raping two young St. Louis women on Chouteau Island.

The two women alleged that they were raped and forced to commit acts of deviate sexual nature by nine young men on the island.

Madison County sheriff's deputies found one man's driver's license at the scene and questioning him led to a second arrest. Both were granted immunity from prosecution in the case in return for full statements naming the other seven men.

During the second half of September, three St. Louis men were arrested and charged. Mark Mueller was charged with rape and deviate sexual assault, and Donald Jenkins and Richard Knowles were each charged with two counts of rape and two counts of deviate sexual assault.

Informational documents were issued against the three by Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron Nov. 22.

Dec. 10, the cases against the three men were joined for trial. The trial opened Feb. 7 with jury selection in Edwardsville. Mueller and Jenkins were defended by Attorney Charles I. Weitzman of Granite City while Knowles was represented by Attorney Dennis Brandt of Edwardsville.

Jury selection lasted three days and a full week of testimony followed. The victims related the alleged acts for the prosecution which also introduced the statements from the two men who have been granted immunity in the case.

Knowles and Jenkins also testified to having sexual relationships with the two young women, but denied any rape or deviate sexual activity.

After closing arguments Thursday, Feb. 17, the jury adjourned for more than nine hours of deliberation. The jury foreman announced the jury was hopelessly deadlocked at 2:30 a.m. Friday which led to Judge Clark's decision to declare a mistrial in the case.

It is not known whether prosecutors will request a retrial.

'Friendly' visits pre-school center

Officer Friendly, Glenn Wright, visited the Title I Pre-school Center on Wednesday to acquaint the boys and girls of the necessary skills in the program, through his magic tricks, was enjoyable, as well as informational to the students, according to school officials.

On dean's list

Thomas Black, a student at the University of Dubuque College of Liberal Arts, has been named to the dean's list for the fall semester. He is the son of Mrs. Laverne Black, 2740 Sunset Drive.

In all, 211 students were named to the dean's list, on which students must obtain a semester grade point average of 3.2 on a 4.0 scale, according to John Burhorn, academic dean.

"We are proud of the accomplishments of these fine students," he said. "They have proven themselves to be outstanding leaders in the academic life of our college."

The University of Dubuque consists of a four-year college of liberal arts and a three-year theological seminary. Located in Dubuque, Iowa, the University offers over 35 areas of study and eight degree-granting programs.

Urge queries on assessment exemptions

Many persons in Nameoki Township who are eligible for a reduction in real estate property assessments under the Homestead Exemption Act apparently have failed to apply for the benefit and are being urged to check with the office of Nameoki Township Assessor Carl Macios if they have any questions concerning the program. Macios' office reported Tuesday.

The Homestead Exemption program provides a reduction of $1,500 in the assessment of real estate property owned and occupied by persons 65 years of age or older. The program has no connection with the Illinois Circuit Breaker law which provides tax rebates in an entirely separate program, an office spokesman explained.

"We are certain there are quite a few senior citizens in the township who have not filed applications for the assessment reduction, possibly because some people have confused it with the Circuit Breaker law, or because they are not acquainted with the exemption program," the spokesman said.

"Any person who is 65 or older who owns real estate which he or she occupies as a home, and who has not applied for the benefit, should call the Nameoki Township Assessor's office. Those who may not have filed applications still may do so, it was noted.

Freshmen orientation
Monday at North, South

Both North and South High Schools will hold orientation programs for 1977 incoming freshmen on Monday evening, Feb. 28.

The program is to acquaint new students and their parents with the high school curriculum. Of special interest will be the Industrial Arts and Home Economics departments which are undergoing substantial changes for next year.

Incoming North freshmen and their parents will meet in the North High cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. Monday for a general session.

South students and parents will assemble in the auditorium at South High, also at 7:30 for their initial briefing.

After convening at the two locations for short meetings, the incoming students and parents will have an opportunity to visit as many as three different sessions, where department chairmen will explain the curriculum in their specific area.

Each department session is scheduled to last about 20 minutes. Both high schools will conclude their programs at 9 p.m.

Attendance at the orientation program will help to minimize any apprehensions students or parents may have regarding high school, Mrs. Charlotte Gauen, school counselor, advised.

The orientation program also will provide an opportunity to meet the schools' administrators, many of the staff members and the counselors, Mrs. Gauen said.

Seek source of chemical in Hwy. 162 drainage pond

While no single source has yet been identified as injecting dangerous chemicals into a drainage pond along the north side of Route 162, some officials are speculating that a leak in a water line which allowed the water to run through lime-filled slag piles may have been responsible.

Eleven-year-old Matthew Forehand suffered chemical burns to both legs when he fell through the ice into the water just east of 21st Street. His burns were not critical, but did resemble a severe sunburn, according to members of the family.

Madison County and Granite

City environmental officials checked the water where it appeared to be flowing into the pond and diagnosed a pH level of 12.5, indicating a strong level of a base-chemical, the opposite of acid.

Granite City Steel, which owns the property, posted a guard at the pond to keep anyone away from being burned and then began excavation work to attempt to identify the source of the chemical.

The source has not been pinpointed, but it has been discovered that an underground line in the area carries river water from Granite City Steel to International Mill Service.

The water was found to be free of dangerous chemicals where it left the steel mill and International Mill officials said their employees come into physical contact with that water. First and there have been no reports of employees suffering chemical burns.

A spokesman for International Mill said the water line has been shut off temporarily while the source of the chemicals is being investigated.

Environmental officials noted that the slag piles near where the water appears from the ground do contain a high level of lime, which is a base substance.

Water flowing through the slag from a faulty pump or a broken water line could pick up some of the lime, giving the water a base pH level.

Granite City Steel is pumping the water out of the pond and into the company's disposal system. It is hoped with the water line between the steel mill and International Mill Services turned off, the pumping operation will be successful in drying up the ponding area.

TRUCK SLOWS TRAFFIC
A tractor-trailer which jackknifed and then struck a bridge on Interstate 270 a half-mile east of Route 3 at 5:30 a.m. Tuesday slowed traffic in the eastbound lanes about two hours. The driver of the truck, George E. Freeman, Liberty, Ind., said he was passing another truck, the other truck changed lanes, causing Freeman to apply the brakes. Freeman's truck then jackknifed and hit the bridge. Freeman escaped injury.

LOOT MOBILE HOME

Items valued at a total of $530 were stolen from the mobile home of Winford Marler, 3310
Bryan Ave., between 7 a.m. and 10 p.m. Tuesday. Entry was gained by breaking a rear bedroom window and crawling through the window opening.
Stolen were a $150 citizens' band radio, a $120 combination stereo and radio, a $80 combination stereo, and three electric drills with a combined value of $200.

GRANITE CITY IN 1954 looked considerably different than today. In this view, looking southeast on 19th Street from Delmar Avenue, stores then included Carp's and Shermer's Men's Shop, at left, and across the street — from Edison Avenue to the northwest — were Hollywood Clothing, Hub Drugs, Shaw's Clothing and Jewelry, the Nifty Shops Millinery and Sportswear Store, the City Malt Shop and Schiff's Shoes. One-way auto traffic was the rule and formerly-used trolley tracks are visible.

23 YEARS LATER, 19th Street has changed drastically, although some "fixtures" such as the Washington Theater and Leader store in the background, and Hub Drugs remain unchanged. Hollywood Clothing has been replaced by Stefanie's;

Shaw's gave way to Ruth's, and the Nifty Shops and City Malt Shop building now house Boutique II. The Schiff's Shoes sign still shows at right; but the building now is vacant after having been a tavern. Carp's continues but has a different sign.

Does an 18th Century hearth have a place in a 20th Century home?

A fireplace in the kitchen? We thought you might like to relive the good old days—every day, today!

YOU ARE INVITED to see with us not one but two homes with fireplace in the kitchen. They are brand new and ready for your approval. Located at 4580 D'Lynn Drive and 2147 Foreman Court in all new Northland Estates.

MARYVILLE, GRIGSBY AND NORTH SENIOR HIGH are for the children. Oh, yes, these are all brick ranch homes with formal entry, three bedrooms, living room and dining room, full basement, dishwasher and range in kitchen, full carpeting, two baths and extra large two car garage.

THE LOT IS SPACIOUS. For a limited time only the price on each is $43,900. The price must go up to $44,900 on March 1, 1977. We can offer you a generous trade on your present home or you can buy for as little as 5 percent down.

DO YOURSELF A FAVOR and call today as we're convinced these are "never again" prices. Remember, too, that as the year goes by we will have many brand new homes to choose from. When you're ready, we'll be ready.

A WORD OF ADVICE, THOUGH. Start early and avoid inevitable price rises.

HOW ABOUT A "TRADE IN"

The "trade-in" is a common practice with cars. Has it ever occurred to you that HOUSES can be traded, too? Maybe you need more space for an expanding family. But Smith's children are grown and gone - he wants a smaller place. So we arrange an exchange . . . with benefits for both of you!

Good idea? Happens all the time! Come in and let's get started on it.

Women most frequent Bi-State bus riders

Results of a passenger survey taken aboard Bi-State buses in Missouri and Illinois indicate that the average bus rider is a female between the ages of 25 and 44, traveling to and from her job, and earning less than $8,000 per year.

The odds that she will be white or black are nearly even. She pays her fare in cash, and does not need to transfer. Her trips take less than 30 minutes. She feels that most bus drivers are courteous and that bus service in general, including locations of routes and stops, is good.

These and other facts about public transit in the St. Louis metropolitan region emerged from responses to a questionnaire distributed to Bi-State passengers in late 1976. The survey is part of an extensive study of virtually every phase of Bi-State's operations. Responses to the questionnaire were compiled and analyzed by a consulting team from Urban Behavioral Research Associates, Inc., of St. Louis.

Paul Schulz, chairman, and Robert J. Baer, executive director of the Bi-State Development Agency, expressed gratitude to the 36,000 persons who agreed to answer the survey questionnaire. They noted that 46 per cent of those surveyed said that they ride the bus by choice, giving as their reasons economics, convenience and heavy traffic.

"I believe the survey results indicate that people's attitudes about public transit are changing and becoming more positive," Baer said.

"For example, nearly seven per cent of those answering the questionnaire said they owned three or more cars; yet, they chose to ride the bus."

Baer feels that responses to this survey are probably more accurate than those received in a similar survey taken in 1974.

"Interview assistants were employed to ride along and aid those passengers who might have difficulty in understanding or responding to any of the questions," Baer explained. Baer said that while 36 per cent of the respondents said they do not own a car, another 37 per cent own one vehicle, and 20 per cent own two automobiles.

"More than 50 per cent of the respondents replied that without the bus, they would either have to depend on someone to drive them or they would not be able to travel at all," Baer related.

Bi-State bus routes are so convenient that an overwhelming number (89 per cent) of the respondents said they are able to walk to the nearest bus stop, and the longest travel time indicated was 32 minutes, with the average being less than a half-hour.

Also, nearly two-thirds of the respondents indicated they were able to reach their destination without transferring.

Most travel is to and from jobs, and 46 per cent of the surveyed passengers ride the bus every day.

Although 65 per cent would like additional service, the majority said that the bus goes where they need to travel, and are usually on time and not too crowded. All but a small percentage feel that fares are not "too high."

Baer added, "Unfortunately, 34 per cent feel that the buses are in less than good condition, a situation which Bi-State recognizes. It will be remedied shortly with the arrival of nearly 60 new buses and retirement of those vehicles which are more than 15 years old."

Evidence that Bi-State serves diverse needs is indicated by the fact that nearly 11 per cent of the respondents said they are over 65 years of age, while 25 per cent are under age 19.

Annual family incomes of more than $15,000 were reported by 17.5 per cent and nearly eight earn more than $20,000 per year.

Approximately 65 per cent have incomes under $10,000. "With seven per cent indicating that members of their families have a physical or mental handicap which affects their ability to use public transit, Bi-State's decision to provide 60 new buses with wheelchair lifts and other devices to facilitate boarding should be well received by the community," Baer believes.

DRIVERS INJURED
Robert Young Jr., 16, of 708 Meadowlark Drive, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital this week for observation and Mrs. Steffie Libzar, 61, of 2735 Sunset Drive, was treated for neck pains and pain to the left upper arm and released. GC Steel women's group honors past presidents

Past presidents were honored at the Valentine's Day dinner party of Granite City Steel Women's Association, held last week in the GCS General Office Building cafeteria.

Accorded special honors was Mrs. Ruth M. Huxel, who served as president in 1962 and was instrumental in helping to establish the women's association at the local plant some years earlier.

Mrs. Huxel was presented a gift on behalf of the organization by Wanda McDough. The latter made her appearance attired as a Valentine "cupid" and holding a bow and arrow, appropriate to the dinner theme.

Other past presidents of the association honored included: Gladys Windsor, 1958; Shirley Hoson, 1960; Ruth Rami, 1961; Mrs. Huxel, 1962; Delores Allen, 1963; Muriel Poesick, 1964; Olga McMurray, 1965; Ruth Thornberry, 1966; Helene Bischoff, 1967; Edith Headrick, 1968; Verna Lengyel, 1969; Mary Corday, 1970; Betty Goldasich, 1971; Ruth Hancock, 1972; Dorothy Rushing, 1973; Peggy Solberger, 1974; and Geraldine Dublar, 1975.

Mrs. Jane Lybarger is the current president.

Entertainment following dinner was provided by the "The Windos" from Third Baptist Church under the direction of John Nading, minister of music.

The young people's singing group presented a medley of songs about America, several gospel numbers and a short cantata of love songs.

A program of slides showing historical sites and scenes throughout the country accompanied the singing. The Windos consists of 17 youthful singers.

A Valentine motif prevailed in the dining room appointments. Tables were covered with red cloths and white lace doilies served as place mats.

Living plants decorated with cupid dolls were used as centerpieces and later awarded as prizes.

Mrs. Millie Clements offered the invocation prior to a shish-kebab dinner.

Mrs. Lybarger conducted the business session and received reports from the officers. A nominating committee was appointed to prepare a slate of 1977-78 officers.

Those named to serve were Peggy Solberger, Elaine Fawcett, Donna Sprankle and Lorraine Creighton.

Frieda Riecken headed the program committee for past presidents' night, assisted by Mrs. Thornberry, Nancy Cook, Ann Hoson and Pat Maul.

Various programs and activities were recounted in history of the association, prepared by Mrs. Thornberry and read to the group by Mrs. Cook.

Receiving the centerpieces as gifts were Ethel Miller, Elsie Hawk, Bethel Davis, Barbara Buster, Kathleen Murphy, Mrs. Goldasich, Mrs. Solberger and Mrs. MacDonough.

The association is planning its next dinner meeting for March 8.

Lake School PTA sets election

Pat Withers, president of the Lake School PTA, announced those who will serve as volunteers for the nominating committee and provide a slate of officers for election at the March meeting, during a general meeting last week.

Those named at the February session include Mrs. Alma Reynolds, Mrs. Shirley Strain and Mrs. Betty Goforth. Installation ceremonies will be conducted in May, he added.

Cub Pack 100, sponsored by the school, presented the colors and led the pledge to the flag, followed by Mrs. Faye Hester giving the PTA prayer.

Withers noted that the PTA Awards Banquet will be held on Thursday, Feb. 24, at the South High School. He indicated that tickets are available at $5 per person and that all members of the PTA are eligible to attend.

A letter was read from Eugene Aissi stating that the treasures from King Tut's tomb will be on display from April 1 through Aug. 15 at the National Field Museum in Chicago.

Following adjournment of the business meeting, the fourth-grade classes of Mrs. Sue Grable and Mrs. Phyllis Wiggins presented "A Poem about Washington" and "A Kindness is Never Wasted" as a choral reading.

Quad-City students receive DAR Award

Four "good citizens" from the local high schools were honored this week at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church by the Drusilla Andrews Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Honored were Miss Enid Cox representing Granite City South; Miss Gail Gardner from Venice High School; Miss Francine Litzelman, Granite City North; and Miss Brenda Ratliff of Madison High School.

The Windos, a musical group from the Third Baptist Church, under the direction of Rev. John Nading, minister of music, presented a vocal program with the final patriotic number being accompanied by a series of historical slides. Fifteen persons were in this performing group.

Mrs. Janet Wilson, regent, welcomed the guests and members and led the group in the pledge of allegiance to the flag. She introduced Mrs. Eva Meier who presented the "good citizens." The senior girls were chosen by their high school teachers and administrators on the basis of their leadership, service, and patriotism. Mrs. Meier emphasized that the home, school, and church make up our communities. Without all three, we will have difficulties, she added.

Miss Cox is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Cox and has a special interest in music. She is a member of the Modern Music Masters, participates in her church's adult and teen choirs, is a member of the Hammond Organ Guild, and is a music teacher at the National School of Music. She is also a member of the National School of Music. She is also a member of the National Honor Society and Social Studies Club. She works in Junior Achievement and is a Sunday School teacher.

Miss Gardner, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Gardner, is carrying on a family tradition. She is the third member of her family to receive the "good citizen" honor at Venice High School. Her sister, Miss Gloria Gardner, received the honor in 1970 and in 1971 another sister, Mrs. Sylvia Gardner Buford.

Webster PTA changes meetings

The Webster School PTA honored past presidents and observed Valentine's Day in a special program at the school. President Mrs. Yvonne Gray called the meeting to order. Girl Scout Troop 704 and Brownie Troop 899 presented the colors. The pledge of allegiance was given and the Girl Scouts gave their pledge.

Secretary, Miss Gail Cooper read the minutes from the December meeting and a report on the candy sale was given. Miss Cooper's first grade class won the attendance award with the most parents present.

Brownie Troop 198 presented a puppet show about the "Wise Old Owl" and a story about Brownies.

A cake honoring the past presidents of Webster PTA was presented. Past presidents in attendance were Mrs. Helen Santiago, 1953, and Mrs. Barbara Swartzman, 1973.

A vote on a proposed by-law change to limit the number of meetings to five per year (October, December, February, March and May) instead of the current monthly meetings, was approved.

Nominations for next year's officers included Guy Cooper, president; Mrs. Yvonne Gray, vice-president; Miss Gail Cooper, secretary; and Mrs. Barbara Swartzman, treasurer. Elections will be held at the March meeting and all members were encouraged to attend. Meeting was adjourned by Mrs. Gray and refreshments were served.

Luncheon was served by the hostess to those mentioned and to Mesdames Helen Lipchik, Helen Santagato, Evelyn McCollegan, Ruth Parney, May Ebling and Leona Delatoye.

GC Jaycee-Ettes make Easter plans

Washington Theater to close on Mondays

Edward B. Arthur of Arthur Enterprises, Inc., management service corporation for firms operating the Washington Theater of Granite City and 15 other St. Louis area theaters, has announced that in consideration of the current energy crisis and other pattern changes in theatrical operations, the theaters will go to a six-day-per-week operation, remaining closed on Mondays beginning Feb. 28.

Arthur hopes that the new policy will help conserve the use of heating oil, natural gas and electricity.

The Fox Theater, however, will reduce its operation by eliminating matinees on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday. On these days, the theater will open at 6 p.m. On Tuesdays and Sundays, the Fox will operate on its normal schedule with matinees both days, with the theater opening at 12 noon. This policy for the Fox becomes effective March 2. Thursdays will be set aside at the Fox for special stage attractions and concerts when they are available. Otherwise, the Fox Theater will be closed on Thursdays.

Arthur said the policies will be reviewed from time to time.

Pointers on saving cash, avoiding tax headaches

(Fifth of a series of six articles on 1976 income taxes, prepared by the Southern Chapter of Illinois CPA Society.)

Despite all the changes the Tax Reform Act of 1976 brought, many long-standing rules still apply.

Keeping them in mind when preparing tax returns can save money or prevent headaches, suggests J. Darrell Burton, president of the Southern Chapter of the Illinois CPA Society. His advice follows.

For example, if you held more than one job during the year, there's a chance that more than the maximum Social Security tax required — $805 — was withheld from your pay.

If you paid more, you can claim a refund, or credit, on line 63 of Form 1040 — line 20b of Form 1040A.

If you owe additional taxes and see no way of raising the money before April 15, don't let that deter you from filing your return anyway.

There will be a penalty for late payment of one half of one per cent of the balance owed for each month of delay, plus seven per cent annual interest.

But for late filing of the return, the penalty is five per cent a month, up to a maximum of 25 per cent a year.

In addition, the statute of limitations does not take effect until three years after the filing of a properly filled-out, signed return.

Or, if for some reason you can't file a return by the April 15 deadline, obtain IRS Form 4868 — application for an automatic two-month extension.

The form must be accompanied by a check for whatever you estimate your tax obligation will be.

If you underestimate the amount you owe, you will have to pay interest on the unpaid amount. And if the unpaid amount is more than 10 per cent of your tax liability, a penalty may be assessed.

If fortune brought you a big jump in income last year, you may be eligible for income averaging, which, in effect, lets you average out your income over a five-year period, with a resulting lower tax rate.

If after the instructions you find that you do qualify, use Schedule G for computing your tax.

If after filing your return you discover you overlooked something important — a substantial amount of income or a sizeable deduction, for example — don't panic. File an amended return on Form 1040X.

It's much easier than filling out the original return because the only data required beyond name, address, etc., is amending. You can save time by not listing penny amounts on your tax return.

Round off sums to the nearest dollar. If it's $5.50 or more make it $6.00; $5.49 or less becomes $5.00.

The most common error made on tax returns are easily avoided: mistakes in arithmetic, using the wrong tables, leaving out Social Security numbers, failure of one or both parties to sign joint returns, etc.

Professional tax advisors try to prevent such "goofs" by giving a return one final check, just making sure the arithmetic is right and no spaces have been left vacant by oversight.

Avoidable errors can result in the inconvenience of having your return sent back for re-filing — and perhaps the expense of penalty or interest charges. They could also suggest to the tax collector that the return probably contains more serious errors, thus leading to a tax audit.

The Illinois CPA Society suggests that a little extra time spent on the tax return is well worthwhile, financially as well as emotionally, Burton comments.

who said, "Dr. Rendleman served as the first chancellor of SIUE from July 1, 1968 to Aug. 31, 1971. He was named president of the university Sept. 1, 1971 and served until his death March 4, 1976. It is in my memory that this building is dedicated, and it is our hope that this display will be a special reminder of his achievements, and an inspiration to future students." The bust was sculpted by Kenneth Ryden, assistant professor of art and design.

HOGS USE MORE FEED IN COLD WEATHER

Dick Carlisle, University of Illinois swine specialist, reports that pork producers who provided their pigs protection this winter from the extreme cold temperatures had a better feed efficiency than those who provided no protection.

An Illinois experiment shows what cold weather can do to pig performance. Performance was recorded at weights between 35 and 100 pounds and again between 100 pounds and market. The pigs were exposed to temperatures of 20 degrees, 50 degrees and 80 degrees.

The pigs exposed to 20 degree temperatures had a daily gain of 1.65 pounds and a gain per ton of feed of 884 pounds. The pigs exposed to 50 degree temperatures had a daily gain of 1.78 pounds and a gain per ton of feed of 900 pounds. The pigs exposed to 76 degrees had a daily gain of 1.76 pounds and a gain per ton of feed of 890 pounds.

The feed efficiency increased with the temperature. A ton of feed cost well over $100. If you can produce 200 pounds more gain for that ton, it's well worth the effort to keep those pigs warm.

WATER QUALITY

How feedlot runoff and other agricultural non-point pollution sources affecting water quality in Illinois will be the subject of a statewide telenet program, Thursday, March 3.

Madison County residents interested in the program can attend at the area office telenet location on the second floor of the Edwardsville Post Office. The program will begin at 1:15 p.m. The two-hour educational program is sponsored by the Extension Service.

Representatives of a special agriculture task force, advising the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency staff, will be featured speakers on the program. All major agricultural and environmental organizations in Illinois have membership on the agricultural task force.

The telenet program will include a description of the federal legislation requiring segment of the program.

Mrs. Eftimoff is a special education teacher at Emerson School.

Among those scheduled to appear on the telenet are orchestra leader Tex Benke, vocalist Sue Raney, actress Gloria DeHaven, singers Bob Newkirk and Blake Emmons, talk-show host Regis Philbin, actor Michael Haynes, former St. Louis weatherman Ollie Raymond and Colleen Kay, a 9-year-old singer.

All monies raised by the telenet go to agencies working with the children, the Eftimoffs said. The Variety Club assumes any overhead costs involved in the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Vasil Eftimoff of Granite City will be participants in the St. Louis Variety Club Telenet Saturday night to raise funds for the Crusade for Forgotten Children.

Last year, proceeds from the telenet amounted to more than $400,000. Donations are distributed to agencies serving physically and emotionally handicapped children.

A black-tie dinner with entertainers on the show will precede Saturday's 10:30 p.m. telecast on KSD-TV Channel 2.

Eftimoff, pupil-personnel director for the Granite City School District, will serve on the VIP panel which answers the telephones for the opening segment of the program.

Interest and dividends paid to customers of Illinois insured savings and loan associations last year went over the billion dollar mark for the first time, new statistics showed this week.

Adam Jahns, president of the Illinois Savings and Loan League, noted that the interest and dividends credited to account holders in the state amounted to $1,165,000,000, nearly 20 per cent more than the interest and dividends paid for 1975.

Jahns said other records were set in Illinois last year as well. "Net new savings rose 30 per cent from 1975 to 1976. Residential loans closed for purchase rose 32 per cent from one year to the next, and total residential loans closed were up nearly 53 per cent," he reported.

Net new savings for 1976 totaled $2.5 billion, while the sum of $4 billion was committed to residential loans closed for purchase, and $4.6 billion was involved in all residential loans made during the year.

Home fruit tree pruning

By RON CORNWELL
Agricultural Advisor

A demonstration on how to prune fruit trees and small fruits that the homeowner has in the backyard will be held Saturday at 9:45 a.m. at Chris Doll's home.

To get to the Doll residence starting from Edwardsville, take Highway Rt. 143 west toward Wood River, Go 1/2 mile west of the Rt. 159 and Rt. 143 intersection (Moto Station at intersection) and turn right (north).

Go 1/2 mile to a gray house on the left side (west) of the road. The name is on the mailbox.

This will be an actual pruning demonstration on pruning fruit trees and small fruits. How do you prune apple trees, peach trees, grape vines, raspberries or blackberries? When should you prune your fruit trees?

What equipment is needed to prune a fruit tree? What effect does pruning have on yield? Can I damage a tree by overpruning it?

These are all questions that will be answered at the pruning demonstration. The demonstration is open to all residents of Madison County. For additional information on the pruning demonstration, call 656-7200.

Law changes needed to better cope with young criminals

As has been pointed out by Madison County grand juries, the Illinois Juvenile Code is failing to adequately rehabilitate young criminals, and the revolving-door juvenile release policy has led to repeat—and increasingly serious—law violations, including vicious murders.

As president of the Illinois State's Attorneys' Association, Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas Byron has begun the formation of a legislative panel subcommittee on juvenile justice. Possible state law changes to be sought may include: Resentencing of youth correctional facility inmates when they become 17; specified rather than indefinite juvenile sentences; curtailment of unusually early release from custody; transfer of some juveniles to adult correctional centers; more complete notification of prosecutors and arresting officers when early release is under consideration, and revised probation-parole procedures.

Precisely which of these revisions deserve to be enacted will need to be determined through detailed study. But it is apparent that the 15-year Illinois juvenile experiment—with its insufficient emphasis on confinement and rehabilitation—must be improved upon.

Financing being arranged for long-awaited traffic overpass

Construction of a vehicular overpass across the main Granite City railroad tracks—connecting the central business district with West Granite City—is a project long desired and needed.

Delayed until now because of the substantial cost and the lack of sources to pay for it, the project now appears to be moving steadily toward realization. The probable site is 19th Street, which is situated at the West Granite City midpoint. Priority has been given to the overpass by this region's Federal Aid to Urban System committee, which is allocating $1,275,000 in 1977-78 and $1 million in 1978-79 as the major portion of a 70 per cent federal share of the cost.

Of the 30 per cent local portion of the estimated $4 million undertaking, considerable sums may be provided by railroads, by a state government fund for special projects and by the Illinois grade separation fund.

Many fatalities and serious injuries at the downtown area crossings—Niedringhaus, 19th and 20th—come to mind. Costly, inconvenient and sometimes tragic delays at the rail crossings also are recalled vividly by local residents, workers, shoppers and visitors.

More closely unifying the "two sides of the tracks," the new Granite City overpass—for these and other reasons—will be a highly welcome and significant improvement.

Business climate III—Compensation, environment and energy

Part Three of comments by the Illinois Manufacturers' Association—In 1975, the General Assembly greatly increased benefits for workers who are killed or injured on the job, or who have occupational diseases. These increases and expanded eligibility provisions gave Illinois the best benefits in the country, according to those who successfully fought for them.

They are also the most costly for employers, who pay for them. The huge increases in workmen's compensation insurance premiums have shocked state employers, and have added greatly to the state's business climate problems.

ESCO Corporation, employing 450 people in its Danville plant, paid a workmen's compensation insurance premium of $382,644 in 1976. If the identical plant were located ten miles to the east in Indiana, the comparable cost would be $91,347.

The 1976 amendment law passed by the General Assembly, ostensibly designed to change provisions needed of correction, was grossly inadequate. It reduced employer costs by less than one per cent.

The occupational diseases and inflation-related provisions, plus other factors, will cause large new increases in workmen's compensation costs in 1977.

The Assembly must seriously come to grips with the workmen's compensation problem in Illinois, including its costly, lawyer-ridden and inequitable benefit-delivery system. Illinois must be competitive with other states.

Illinois, after 1975 amendments to the unemployment compensation law raising average benefits 35-40 per cent, has high benefits for unemployed workers compared to most states. Average unemployment compensation taxes on employers, who pay for all such benefits, almost doubled in 1976 and will soar in 1977.

The Sundstrand Corp. of Rockford paid an unemployment compensation tax in 1975 of $114,822. In 1976, it was $232,259, and in 1977 it will be $772,637, using the same taxable payroll and despite a steady employment history.

Although high unemployment in Illinois accounts for much of this increase, Illinois costs are nonetheless out of line.

Also of importance is the impact to employers are the administrative practices sanctioned by the law, that permit persons to draw benefits who should not, and to keep drawing benefits when they are not seeking work.

In its concern for the unemployed in a period of great unemployment, the state seems to have forgotten about the rights and interests of the employer. Workers who voluntarily quit their jobs should not be eligible for unemployment compensation.

Employers should be notified of unemployment compensation claims promptly. Unemployed workers should report personally weekly to establish to the satisfaction of the state that they are seeking and available for work. The present right of workers who refuse to cross picket lines to draw unemployment benefits is particularly resented by employers.

The 1970 Illinois Environmental Protection Act established a costly, legalistic enforcement system that pits the state in an adversary role against industry.

Coupled with an attitude by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency that has been interpreted as hostile to—or at least indifferent to—industry, there has been little room for any cooperative solution of difficult statewide or individual company pollution problems.

There seems to have been more interest in penury unemployment in seeking constructive solutions to complex problems.

Some state air and water pollution standards are more stringent than required by federal standards. The Illinois program has cost the state some manufacturing jobs.

Just as industry must realize the determination of the people of Illinois to clean up the environment, so too must there be an understanding of industry's problems, including economic and technological considerations, by officials assigned to pollution control agencies.

The need for adequate energy at reasonable prices to keep industry operating is obvious. One of the reasons why Illinois became a great industrial power was its enormous coal resources available at low cost.

With the advent of environmental protection laws, Illinois has increasingly banned the burning of its coal by its industry, including electric power stations. Coal production in Illinois was down five per cent last year while thousands of tons of low sulfur coal were shipped in from western states—to this to cope with a sulfur dioxide problem which does not exist in the ambient air of most areas of the state.

Until SO2 scrubbers are commercially available, testing rates for natural gas and electric power, the state should continue to apply the equitable "cost of service" policy, which has been followed for so many years.

The recent decision of the Illinois Commerce Commission to permit a large increase in gas rates for industry while essentially excusing residential users was a blow to the business climate of Illinois. Increased energy costs should be shared by all users.

1st Amendment challenge

Comment by New York Times—When the Supreme Court last spoke on obscenity in 1973, it in effect authorized communities to establish their own definitions of the "prurient" or "patently offensive" in word or picture.

Many predicted an era of confusion from the ruling, written by Chief Justice Burger for a 5-4 majority. They denied Mr. Burger's contention that, for the first time in 16 years, the court had agreed on "concrete guidelines to isolate 'hard core' pornography from expression protected by the First Amendment."

We agreed then that communities should have the right to prevent what they deem to be offensive materials from being displayed to juveniles or uninterested adults. But we sided emphatically with the dissenting justices, who denounced the decision as a state-ordered regimentation of our minds.

We thought that "police-court morality" will have a heyday, and were persuaded by Justice Douglas's warning that the ruling "would make it possible to ban any paper or any journal or magazine in some benighted place."

The jailing of Larry Flynt, the editor and publisher of Hustler, a national publication, it is suggested that Douglas justly understated the danger. Hustler is a crude example of what is known as "girlie magazines," apparently third in popularity behind Playboy and Penthouse. Flynt was charged and convicted of pandering obscenity and engaging in organized crime. The benighted place was a Hamilton County Common Pleas Court in Cincinnati. Its sentence was seven to 25 years in prison.

The country's concern clearly went far beyond the control or even the banning of a magazine offensive to its community.

By jailing the publisher of a national publication, it was groping for a procedure by which one of Douglas's "benighted" places might become the self-appointed protector of the nation's morals, silencing any publication, program and halting the showing of any motion picture.

The case against Flynt bore many signs of judicial persecution. Neither he nor any of his acquiescent codefendants reside or work in Hamilton county. Hustler is published in Columbus, printed in Dayton and New York and distributed from Derby, Conn.

The trial judge would not allow similar magazines to be shown in evidence, thus implying a desire to make an example of Hustler.

The charge that Flynt had engaged in "organized" crime was derived from the fact that he had entered into a routine contract with the local distributor of newspapers and magazines, though none of the executives of that company was brought to trial. Finally, Flynt was denied bail while waiting to appeal.

Now, the nature of Hustler may mute the voices normally heard in forceful defense of a free press. That would be most unfortunate, indeed a dangerous first step down a slippery slope from First Amendment guarantees.

We find the magazine to be just as distasteful as do some citizens of Hamilton County. It is an exploiter of low tastes, perhaps a corrupter of deeper values.

But our opinion has no bearing on his freedom to publish and we can think of nothing more sinister than the attempt to regulate public taste or to interfere with publishing by throwing publishers or writers or actors in jail.

There is little virtue in leaping to the defense of admirable publications. The test of our commitment to a free society lies in the courage to defend the disreputable or the vulgar in the service of a higher goal.

The Hamilton County prosecutor conceded that he wished to draw a line, to test a theory of law. The case is indeed a test — of the Supreme Court's ambiguous 1973 ruling. It has failed.

GC—city of human strengths, foibles

To the Editor:

Granite City—She is full of smells and sounds. She is full of people, good and bad, happy and sad. Politicians seek the vote: Sadinos, and second cousins, brothers, mothers, sisters and fathers become members of the family.

Ministers seek souls for God: Thank you, Lord, for 50 years of blessings. I found it. Adoption, not abortion. Christ is Lord. —Say the signs and bumper stickers.

Businessmen seek business: Goodbye to McDonald's, Park N' Eat. Eat more horseshit. —Say the signs and bumper stickers.

Granite City Steel, American Steel. And the ghosts of Communism and the Stagnation works man and groan from the human sacrifice.

Catholic Church, Baptist Church, Assembly of God, Pentecostal Church, Christian

Scientist Church and reading room and Methodist Church. —Pray and hope to create new beings of God from the old ones of sin, through Jesus Christ.

Grandma and Grandpa, aunts and uncles, cousins and second cousins, brothers, mothers, sisters and fathers become members of the family.

This is God's design, not man's. Families and families and families create a city. Men, women and children create a city.

Some will steal. Some will curse. Some will commit adultery. Some will lie. Some will work on Sunday. Some will cheat on their neighbor. Some will kill. Some will dishonor their parents.

We all will sin. But we can change in our hearts to not to. This helps create a good city. We all must have something to do. Not because someone says so, but because we all need a purpose in our lives.

Some people are busy supporting their families. Some are busy supporting their habits. Some are busy seeking money and fame. Some are busy seeking love and God.

Some are busy watching television. Some are busy serving God daily through their thoughts, actions and deeds.

Some think. Some do. But all are important. Granite City is as important as the highest or least of its citizens, young and old.

Let us not forget that it is truly American to disagree. Happiness will come when we may disagree respectfully. In Russia, if you disagree you may be classified insane.

In America, we learn from each other. Long hair or short. Rich or poor. Black or white. Granite City, we are human beings. Let us love God and each other.

Unable to verify residency in city

To the Editor:

I would like to express my extreme disappointment in the employees in the office of the city clerk.

Recently I went to the office of the city clerk to obtain a copy of a document verifying myself as a resident of the City of Granite City. I have a very important need of this record. A very simple procedure, right? All you have to do is open a drawer and pull out a piece of paper. Wrong!

The person helping me did not seem to know or even care about what I needed. Common courtesy says to give at least a half-hearted attempt to help a citizen. I realize that I have a long name that is difficult to pronounce, but I would have been glad to spell it slowly.

In the meantime, I still do not have this important record.

GI education assistance extended

To the Editor:

Many of the former servicemen and women among your readers may be eligible for a new federal benefit which could bring them an additional $292 to more than $500 per month for nine months.

Because these benefits are subject to an expiration date, the Veterans Administration is making every effort to insure that all eligible veterans are aware of them.

The significant increase in entitlement for GI Bill educational benefits was approved by Congress State last year. The new provisions can have a total potential in excess of $4,500 to married veterans with large families.

Basically, the new law provides nine additional months of GI Bill eligibility to most veterans originally entitled to 36 months of VA educational assistance.

The new legislation does not change that portion of the law requiring that a veteran must use his GI Bill benefits within ten years of his discharge from service. Therefore, veterans who have been out of the military service for ten years are not eligible for the additional benefits.

The VA estimates that 6.1 million veterans are currently eligible for GI Bill benefits, including 3.8 million who have used part of their eligibility and 2.3 million who have not taken advantage of it at all.

We are particularly anxious, however, to reach the half-million men and women who have already used the full 36 months of eligibility that was the maximum entitlement prior to enactment of the new legislation.

They may now be entitled to an additional nine months of educational benefits.

We urge all veterans eligible under the criteria outlined above to contact the Veterans Administration for further details of this new entitlement.

Veterans in Illinois may call, visit or write the VA Regional Office, 306 S. Clark St., P.O. Box 8136, Chicago 60680.

Quick test for drug intoxication

American Chemical Society
A quick, inexpensive test for the active ingredient in marijuana, tetrahydrocannabinol (THC), in blood is reported in "Analytical Chemistry," a publication of the American Chemical Society.

Suitable for "routine" legal or medicinal use, the test is superior to earlier, more cumbersome methods of detection, notes Dr. Joe Vinson of the University of Scranton in Pennsylvania.

The method has been tested successfully on blood samples from volunteer smokers in a study funded by the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety.

"My procedure can only be applied in the laboratory and hence is not fully comparable to the alcohol-balance test. However, it can be done by relatively untrained personnel in about two hours of laboratory time," says Dr. Vinson.

The method does not require expensive instruments. This easy test has as used considerable interest from police and crime labs.

Dr. Vinson pointed out that if marijuana is "decriminalized" to a misdemeanor or legalized, drivers while under the influence of marijuana may become a punishable offense, and law enforcement officers will need a facile test for THC intoxication.

The high rate of drug-related traffic casualties in the United States provides further incentive for a quick screening procedure, according to Dr. Vinson.

Sensitivity is a key feature of the new test. THC concentration in blood plasma diminishes rapidly after smoking and falls to only one part per billion in two hours. But the test can detect two-tenths of a part per billion in serum.

"This method is comparable in sensitivity to sophisticated instrumental methods," says Dr. Vinson and coauthor Dina Patel and Arun Patel.

Another feature of the test is that none of the narcotics, tranquilizers or psychoactive drugs interfere with the results. Among these are amphetamine, caffeine, cocaine and barbitals. Dr. Vinson notes that the principal cost is labor, not instrumentation.

The blood test involves reacting THC in the sample with a reagent, 2-p-chlorophenyl-1-phenylindole, to form a derivative which then is separated and identified by thin-layer chromatography.

Actually, two tests are required. A screening test is needed that will determine rapidly if a suspect is intoxicated.

If positive, this qualitative test should be followed by a more precise test, such as Dr. Vinson's recently completed work that allows the level of THC in blood serum to be quantitatively determined.

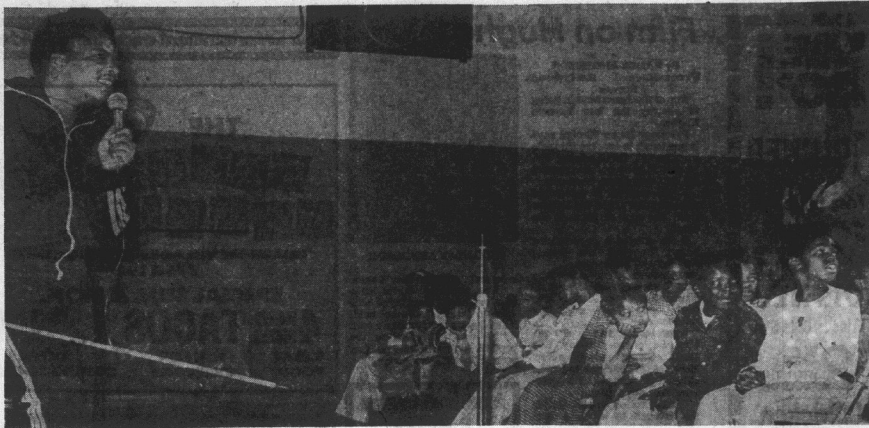

A rapid test for THC in saliva is his current project. Obviating the need for blood sampling, a saliva test would be ideal for large-scale screening.

THC in saliva also appears directly related to motor response.

One problem is that the concentration of THC in saliva is only forty per cent of the blood concentration, making detection more difficult. In less than one hour in the laboratory, Dr. Vinson and coworkers can detect THC in saliva by using a simple, one-step extraction procedure, followed by evaporation, derivatization and his thin-layer chromatographic method.

Though soybeans were being cultivated in China before 3500 B.C., they were virtually unknown in Europe and America until 1900.

EOC taking applications for Headstart programs

The Madison County EOC is accepting applications for enrollment in the Granite City-Madison-Venice Headstart program, according to Granite City Area Director Richard Miller and Madison-Venice Area Director John Rush.

The Headstart classes, tentatively set to begin on June 6, are open to children entering kindergarten in the fall of 1977, whose parents meet family annual income requirements of the program, are in the military or live in federal housing.

Where there are extenuating circumstances concerning the child's needs, provisions can be made, the director said.

The program, funded by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, and sponsored by Madison County EOC, provides a balanced spectrum of educational, nutritional, social, and medical benefits for eligible children, they noted.

Film on Hughes

By NANCY ANDERSON
Press-Record Hollywood Bureau

One of the Jones boys is going to portray the late Howard Hughes.

Producer Roger Gimbel says it was tough to cast the title role in "Howard, the Amazing Mr. Hughes," his four-hour special for CBS television, because:

1. He needed a competent actor capable of playing Hughes from the age of 19 until his death.

2. He needed a good-looking actor, because the young Hughes was handsome.

3. He wanted an actor who wasn't already too famous to immerse his own identity into that of the eccentric millionaire.

After testing nearly 400 actors, he chose Tommy Lee Jones, a young man with a New York stage background who gives a remarkable performance as Hughes.

Gimbel tested candidates for the title role by showing them film clips of the real Hughes and asking them to duplicate the man and the action they'd seen.

"The only actor besides Jones who was even considered was Warren Beatty," Gimbel said. "And Beatty didn't make a test. "He was interested in the project, but I think he just wanted to read our script."

Nearly 6 telephones for every 10 Quad-Cityans

With 39,540 telephones in the area served by Illinois Bell's Granite City telephone office, 58.4 per cent of the residents of all ages have phones here.

Hong Kong, Taiwan and Turkey have moved into the category of each having a million or more telephones as the world added more than 21 million new telephones during 1975.

These and other statistics are contained in the new edition of "The World's Telephones," a booklet published annually by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company's Long Lines Department.

Information on 1,400 principal cities located throughout the world, including Granite City, is contained in the 28-page booklet.

The material is dated as of Jan. 1, 1976, and is the most recent available, since it takes a year to gather and publish the data.

It was distributed here yesterday.

According to the booklet, the number of telephones in the world as of Jan. 1, 1976, was 379,600,000, an increase from 1975 of 21,200,000 or 5.9 per cent. It marked the first time in 20 years that the annual rate of increase dipped below six per cent.

The three new entries on the list of places having more than a million telephones have joined 33 other political entities sharing this distinction.

Still at the top of this list is the United States with 149,011,000 telephones in service.

Japan is a distant second with 45,514,709, and the United Kingdom is third with 21,006,602.

In fourth place with 16,940,000 phones is the Soviet Union. Fifth and sixth places are held by Italy with 14,465,677 and France with 13,833,346.

Since they have the most telephones by far, it follows that Americans are the most telephonic.

They placed a total of 204,600,000 local and long distance calls during 1975, a record number. Japan again was a distant second in this category with 45 billion calls.

An indication that France also is a talkative nation can be found in the fact that although that country ranked sixth in the number of telephones, it ranked third in the number of calls with 28 billion for the year.

Telephone growth among countries was paced by Brazil, where the number of telephones jumped 27.1 per cent for the year to a total of 3,371,284.

Second in the growth category was Taiwan with an increase of 24.1 per cent to a total of 1,117,889. The United States had an increase of 3.5 per cent for the year.

In terms of telephones per 100 population, the United States continued to lead with 69.49 phones for every 100 citizens. Sweden was second in this category with a per capita telephone count of 66.07 per 100 citizens.

Third was Switzerland with 61.09 telephones per 100 population. The world average is 9.1 telephones for each 100 persons.

In the United States, Washington again claimed the distinction of having the most telephones per 100 population — 140.4.

The nation's capital is one of seven American cities having more phones than people. The others are: Southfield, Mich., 133.8; Champaign, Ill., 110.0; San Francisco, Calif., 105.6; Palo Alto, Calif., 103.0; Fullerton, Calif., 102.9; and Newport Beach, Calif., 101.7.

"The World's Telephones" notes the fact that of the 379,600,000 telephones in the world, the Bell System connects with 373,500,000 — or 98.5 per cent of them.

Industrial toxicology instruction

Professionals responsible for occupational health and safety will be participating in an industrial toxicology course at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this spring.

Stephen K. Hall, associate professor of chemistry at SIUE, says this is the first course of its kind to be offered at an area university or college.

The course was developed by Hall through a faculty development program intended to improve and expand educational opportunities for students in the university.

It is an intensive postgraduate course dealing with a specialized branch of chemistry involved in environmental health problems related to the toxic effects of common industrial and household chemicals. The class is part of a new master's degree program in environmental studies although it is also available to other qualified students.

Hall said professionals from the American Society of Safety Engineers, American Industrial Hygiene Association, Occupational Safety and Health Act, Environmental Protective Agency and employees from industrial laboratories — including Monsanto Chemical, Laciele and Granite City Steel — will be taking the course. He added that medical lab technicians working with poisoning cases also will be interested in the class.

SIUE is the first non-medical school to offer this type of course.

Upon successful completion of the class, professionals will receive a certificate of proficiency in the field of industrial toxicology and four hours of SIUE credit.

Classes will meet for 10 weeks in the spring quarter (April 2 through June 4) on Saturdays from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. For more information on Industrial Toxicology (CHEM 459 and CHEM 559), Quad-Cityans may contact Prof. Hall at the School of Science and Technology, SIUE, or call 692-3634.

Chairman Paul Lichtenberger, reporting in mid-February on the bank's activities for the past year, commented, "Your bank continued its steady growth during 1976, total deposits having increased in excess of $6,600,000."

"Due primarily to the decline in interest rates, our profits for the year did not show a commensurate increase, being approximately the same as in 1975."

"Rates are presently showing some signs of firming and, with a continuance of this trend, we should show an increase in 1977."

The chairman continued, "Our local economy, after a slow start, has been improving steadily since mid-year, with some increase in employment."

Gregory L. Rose, 20, and Timothy J. Daubach, both of 3201 Kirkpatrick Homes, were charged with theft after police alleged seeing four 12-foot lighting standards and light fixtures sticking out of the windows of their auto at 1:05 p.m. Monday, and stopped the auto at Fehling Road near State Street.

An official of Rite Electric Co. identified the lighting standards as belonging to the company. He said they were valued at $100 each, a total of $400.

Rose also was served with an active warrant from March 12, 1976, alleging disorderly conduct. He posted $40 cash bond and was released. Daubach was released on a $25 bond.

Art classes attract many

National Art Education Month in March is fast approaching, and schools throughout District Nine are busily preparing for the observance.

Objectives of art education in the schools of Granite City run parallel to those of the National Art Education group, set up as guidelines for art education in the schools of the U.S.

Accompanying pictures were taken at Coolidge Junior High School.

Art Education Consultant for the district is Eugene L. Alaisi, and instructors of art education at Coolidge are Mrs. Virginia Howard, Ronald Ward and Miss Nancy Polson.

The students there at present are working on special projects of macrame weaving, kaledoscope creations, ceramics and three-dimensional construction.

The junior high art education curriculum is based on an exploratory use of art materials and the mastering of basic principals of art education.

Stock dividend approved, growth is cited by First GC National

The action of the First Granite City National Bank board of directors in declaring a stock dividend of 10 per cent was approved by the shareholders at the annual meeting. This dividend will be payable on March 25 to stock of record on March 15.

Chairman Paul Lichtenberger, reporting in mid-February on the bank's activities for the past year, commented, "Your bank continued its steady growth during 1976, total deposits having increased in excess of $6,600,000."

"Due primarily to the decline in interest rates, our profits for the year did not show a commensurate increase, being approximately the same as in 1975."

"Rates are presently showing some signs of firming and, with a continuance of this trend, we should show an increase in 1977."

The chairman continued, "Our local economy, after a slow start, has been improving steadily since mid-year, with some increase in employment."

Hopefully, this will continue.

"The decision of Southwest Steel Supply Company to locate a new steel slitting facility in the Madison Industrial Center is very good news and may signal the start of a new industrial expansion for the area."

"Nationwide, the business community is awaiting a clear-cut indication from the new administration and Congress as to the direction and type of legislation to be proposed."

"A favorable attitude toward business is essential if our nation is to continue to grow and prosper."

At the annual meeting of the shareholders at the bank, 88,348 of the total of 120,000 outstanding shares were represented in person or by proxy.

Directors re-elected were: Harry G. Davis, Wilbert Engleke, H. R. Fischer, Joseph Glik, P. H. Lichtenberger, Howard A. Love, S. E. Pershall, S. E. Pershall Jr., Carl A. Ranft, John W. Reese, Nicholas P. Veeder and Melvin C. Wilmesmyer.

Officers appointed were: Melvin C. Wilmesmyer, president; Charles L. Gavin, senior vice-president; I. J. Pittman, vice-president and cashier; Earl G. Dotsauer, vice-president and auditor; T. J. Conrad, vice-president and director of data processing; Herbert S. Camren, vice-president.

Terry Bellman, 23, and his wife, Janice Bellman, 22, of 2267 State St., were injured when their auto and the car of Franklin Hollenbeck, 1013 Madison Ave., collided in the northbound lanes of Nameoki Road near St. Clair Avenue at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Terry Bellman said he swerved his auto to the right to avoid striking a dog and collided with the other car. He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was x-rayed for back pain but released.

Mrs. Bellman also suffered pain to her back and was released after x-rays were taken.

The accident occurred less than seven hours after two other Bellmans of the same address were involved in an accident on a parking lot at 17th Street and Madison Avenue at 12:40 p.m. Monday.

Carolyn Bellman, 27, the driver, and Ray Bellman, 47, a passenger, also of 2267 State St., escaped injury when their auto and the car of Pearl Johnson, 53 Garces Home, Madison, collided on the parking lot at the Moto service station at that location.

In addition to the 10 per cent stock dividend approved at the shareholders' meeting, the regular cash quarterly dividend of 40 cents per share was declared payable March 15 to stock of record on March 8.

The directors also authorized transfer of $600,000 from undivided profits to the surplus account.

This, with the increase in capital stock to $1,320,000, will create a total capital account of $4,000,000.

An event must be primarily political in nature, with the major portion of time devoted to political speeches or discussion in order to qualify.

The event must also be in honor of an announced political candidate. Taxpayers buying tickets to this type of event can deduct or take a credit equal to the full cost of the ticket.

If the event is only partially political, and its main purpose is to confer benefits to individuals attending, the taxpayer attending may take a deduction or credit for the total cost, minus the fair market value of any benefits gained, such as dinner or entertainment.

Taxpayers are urged to keep records, such as written receipts and cancelled checks, to substantiate the tax deduction or credit for a political contribution.

Richard Ahlers gets promotion

Richard E. Ahlers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard E. Ahlers, 2441 Iowa St., has been promoted to staff sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

Sergeant Ahlers, a security specialist, is assigned at Ellsworth AFB, S.D., with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

The sergeant graduated in 1970 from Granite City High School. His wife, Linda, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin C. Pilcher of 78 Lucinda, Edwardsville.

Some political gifts qualify as a tax deduction

Contributions made during 1976 to a political candidate or campaign committee may qualify for a tax deduction or tax credit, the Internal Revenue Service is pointing out.

To qualify for tax purposes, the contribution must have been used for political activities directly related to a campaign of an announced candidate.

A taxpayer can choose to take either a tax deduction up to $100 ($200 on a joint return) or a tax credit that will reduce his or her tax bill by half of the contribution up to $25, or $50 on a joint return.

Even if the taxpayer takes the standard deduction, he or she can claim the credit. However, to claim a deduction for a campaign contribution, the taxpayer must itemize deductions.

In addition to cash paid directly to a candidate or to a political committee, tickets to some political parties, dinners and other events may qualify for a tax deduction or credit.

An event must be primarily political in nature, with the major portion of time devoted to political speeches or discussion in order to qualify.

The event must also be in honor of an announced political candidate. Taxpayers buying tickets to this type of event can deduct or take a credit equal to the full cost of the ticket.

She read a poem by Helen Steiner Rice entitled, "Teach Me to Love More and to Hate Less."
